HELD ANNUAL MUSICAL Notre Dame Academy Hall

Scene of Pretty Gathering
—Excellent Program

Characterized by a number of novelties and maintaining the same high standard of excellence that has always marked such affairs, the annual musical of the seniors of Notre Dame academy was held this afternoon in the academy hall in Adams street and attracted a large audience of friends and relatives of the young women as well as many priests from this and surrounding cities and towns.
The musicals annually forms a happy prelude for the graduation exercises of the academy which this year will be held on Thursday, June 17. The cozy hall of the school, all too small for the present needs of the institution, formed a pretty setting for the affair. The stage was banked with flowers of the season and patriotic decorations and the

COURT REFLECTS REAL ESTATE ACTIVITIES

If the unusually large number of cases involving the payment of commissions for the sale of property that have been tried in the superior court at Lowell during its present term is an indication there has lately been exceptional activity in the city's real estate markets.

The trial of the latest case to engage the attention of the court was before this morning before Judge Fosdick and a jury in which Arnold A.
Byam, et al., doing business as Byam Brothers, real estate agents, sought to recover $400, alleged to be due in commissions from Michael J. Stack.

Mr. Stack, the defendant, was the first witness called by Mr. Howard, of Quin, Howard & Rogers, counsel for the plaintiff.

The witness said that Ray S. Byam came to him when he was at work on All Souls' church and offered him $700 for property that he owned on Foster street. He did not agree to sell, and he denied that he had placed his property in the hands of the plaintiffs for sale.

The witness said that he had not put a price on the property, but that the next day he went to the office of Byam Brothers in response to a telephone message. He said that Mr.
Byam then put a price of $700 on the property and that he told him that he would only sell for net cash and that the buyer, if one were found, must assent to certain conditions that he named.

The witness said that Mr. Byam stated that the rent of the property was $70 a month. He said that Mr. Byam told him that he had received information about the rent from Mrs. Stack and that he then told the real estate dealer that he had "no business to get information in that way." The witness denied that it had been understood that the price for the property, that had been finally agreed upon, $7200, included a commission to Byam Brothers.

J. J. Hogan appeared for the defendant.

THE SPIRIT OF CIRCUS DAY

Invades the Judicial and Sacred Precincts of the Court House

Judge Adjourns Court to See Street Parade—No Exceptions Recorded

The spirit of circus day invaded the quiet precincts of the Middlesex county court house this morning. As the jurors who had been excused for the day were filing out of the civil courtroom, Judge Fosdick relaxed from his usual judicial dignity to inform the jurors that he hoped none of them
would "drink too much pink lemonade."
The jurors giggled, the assembled lawyers joined in a chorus of laughter, and
for once the grave court officers neglected to rap for "silence in the court room."

As the trial of a new case was about to be started, the judge further relaxed
to inform jurors, attorneys, plaintiffs and defendant that, "if the circus parade goes past this building, this court is going to adjourn to see it." To this the attorneys interested in the case responded "We shall not ask to have any exceptions to the court's ruling recorded."

A little later the blare of band music and the sound of the squealing of many children "It's coming" came through the open windows of the court room.

Minus dignity the court recessed on
the instant and there was a scurrying
on the part of the big and little lights
of the world of law and others present
for favorable places from which to view
the spectacle of the parade.

PERIL OF PARTY SPLIT OVER

Leaders Assert Danger of Bolt Passed as League Plank is Accepted

Development Causes Sensation, and Removes Obstacle Holding up Work

Root Plank Upholds Senate
and Does Not Declare for Ratification of Treaty

CHICAGO, June 10.—A League of Nations plank drafted by Elihu
Root was accepted as a basis of compromise today by irreconcilable
sub-committee.
The plank which upholds the possibility of the senate and does not declare in specific terms for ratification of the treaty also was agreeable to Ogden Mills of New York,
a representative of the mild reservationists on the sub-committee and the members generally declared the prospects of a complete agreement
were bright.

It was said there still was some possibility of a hitch and that the danger of breaking open the treaty question on the floor of the convention had not entirely passed.

All the members of the sub-committee, however, seemed satisfied with the development and smilingly asserted that the peril of a party
split was over.

The agreement was reached at a conference attended by Senator Lodge, republican senate leader, and afterward Senator Borah declared that Senator Lodge had taken a stand opposed to ratification of the treaty and would so state to the convention.

The members of the sub-committee declined to give out the text of the plank saying they wanted to take an hour or two to finally polish it up before giving it to the public.

Development a Sensation

The development came as a sensation
soon after the sub-committee had begun what seemed likely to be a long and desperate struggle. It removed sub-committee members said, the obstacle which had been holding up the work of the convention and probably would permit final action by the convention on the platform at today's session.

The plank together with the remainder of the platform still had to be passed on by the full resolutions committee,
but the leaders expressed every confidence that the work of the sub-committee would be approved virtually without change.

Accepted first by the confidence of leaders, the Root plank later was given unanimous approval by the 13 members
of the sub-committee.

While the plank accepted today was drafted originally by Mr. Root it was said that some modifications had been made in the pre-convention conference of the leaders and in the meeting this morning. Mr. Root is in Europe.

SEN. JOHNSON CHARGES BRIBING DELEGATES

CHICAGO, June 10.—Senator Johnson gave notice yesterday that he would take measures of reprisal against any delegate pledged to his support by results of primary election who did not "stick."

Speaking to newspaper correspondents, he declared his opponents were using means of every kind to shake the allegiance of some of his supporters, mentioned "gold" and added that if any delegate broke away, "I'll take his case to his people."

Reiterating his opposition to the League of Nations, Senator Johnson said that unless the platform committee took a corresponding stand he would "ask the convention, and the people of the United States, to reject" its proposals.

"The convention is tightening up more and more," said Senator Johnson. "It will get to balloting day after tomorrow and as the time approaches my confidence increases."

"I think there'll be quite a number of ballots. We'll not endeavor to start with a tremendous number, but as the ballots are taken I think you'll observe later that we'll move along."

Johnson Talks With Crane

"I presume the platform decision will be made soon in the committee. My future course as to activities within the convention will be determined entirely by the decisions on the platform."

"I've been talking to delegates today about who can best do the job before us, which is that of eliminating the present administration from power. I'd like to submit the question to you or to anybody as to who can get the most votes. Conceding all candidates before the convention, have requisite qualifications for the presidency, there can be no reason for refusing a nomination to that individual except the old theory of striving for immediate success rather than ultimate victory."

Somebody suggested that ex-Senator Crane favored the league with reservations.

"I don't doubt that," the senator said, "and I'm endeavoring to get the republican party to take a republican attitude, an American attitude, and we'll ask the party to take that position."

The senator said he had seen Mr. Crane three times yesterday, "but had no opportunity to talk with him at length."

Looks for Obedience to Primary

Reports that the convention planned to nominate a candidate before adopting a platform were mentioned.

"I think the usual method will be pursued," Senator Johnson replied. He did not think it likely, he added, that the convention would attempt to limit debate on the League of Nations if debate became necessary.

"Any man who betrays his people or betrays me," he said in breaking a volley of questions and referring to primary delegates, "whether for gold or any other reason, I'll take his case to his people and I'd like to make that plain. I don't believe there will be any such betrayal. I look for full obedience to the people's mandates, though efforts of every kind and every character, and I say that advisedly with all it means, are being used to move them. I think those efforts will be futile."

After remarking that he had been having a "delightful time" with Nebraska, Oklahoma and Michigan delegations who called upon him or upon whom he called, the senator reverted to the League of Nations.

"I've been telling you very frankly and very fully every day my opinions on the League of Nations," the senator said. "What do you hear from my opponents about it, what do they tell you, where do they stand?"

He waited a moment.

"Echo answers—where," he observed. "That's all."

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 10.—His English bride, 18 years old, told him she was not his wife at all, but was the twin sister of the woman he married.

Their little skit, entitled "A Rise in Life," and they are past masters in the art. The parlor and living room were bowers of beauty, being tastefully decorated with roses, ferns and bridal wreaths. Refreshments were served in the dining room, which was also decorated in a way most pleasing, with wampies, roses, ferns and bridal wreaths—the color scheme being white and white throughout. The party left Miss Furey's home at midnight, serenading the bride at her home, and showering her with gifts and all good wishes for a bright and happy future. Those responsible for the affair were Miss Julia and Miss Ella Mulligan.

...ed while with the American Expeditionary Forces abroad, Arthur J. Eller set forth in a suit for divorce he filed here recently.

Eller's complaint stated that he married in Liverpool Nellie Lenchan, a hospital worker whom he met in France. He returned to the United States with his contingent and his supposed bride followed. Soon after arriving him here, he alleged, she told him her twin sister was his real wife, and left for New Orleans.

Today for the first time in 4000 years, women need not fear washday.

A wonderful new way of washing—just soaking and rinsing—is replacing all the exhausting methods used for centuries

1. Egyptians—4000 years ago—held their clothes in the running water of the Nile and stamped on them with their feet! Beat them with clay! Pounded them with sticks and stones! Anything to get them clean!

2. Later, women took to using crude washboards. They knelt on platforms that jutted out from the shore, and slapped and pounded their clothes against a wooden board with rough grooves in it. Your own washboard may be smoother, but it's the same rub-rub.

3. Finally, one desperate little housewife made the first soap out of lye and kitchen grease. This crude kind of soap did hasten the washing some—but it ate terrible holes in the clothes!

4. And here we are, down in the 20th century, with lots of women still using the same old "elbow-grease" methods. With a cake of soap and a washing-board, rubbing away, just as your great-great-great-grandmother did! Rubbing the clothes clean by sheer force!

YOUR boiler and washboard way of washing is really just the old river and rock method brought inside the house—only the water is hot instead of cold.

Washing today, by rubbing and boiling clothes, is practically as much drudgery as the crude method of washing used by Egyptian women on the Nile, 4000 years ago. One day out of seven, you go through that exhausting, endless rubbing and scrubbing to get clothes clean.

But all that comes to an end right now! You can store the old-fashioned boiler and washboard in the farthest corner of the attic and forget them from now on.

Rinso is the wonderful new soap in granules—for all plain washing. It is as wonderful for the family washing as Lux is for delicate things. The Rinso granules, dissolved first in a little water, stir up into a soapy, bubbly tubful. You soak the clothes overnight, or for three hours in the morning. Then you rinse. That's all you do!

Rinso is so pure and so high in actual soap value that it "jells." That is why it loosens the dirt without hard rubbing or boiling. Your clothes are as safe in the pure Rinso suds as in plain water.

Only very soiled parts, cuffs, bands and the like, may need a little light rubbing between the hands. You need never boil, unless you wish to do so occasionally—to sterilize them.

All through by nine in the morning

You save all those weary hours of rubbing over the washboard. You save the time and fuss of boiling the clothes every washday.

A few rinsings—a slight rubbing of bad spots between the hands—and your clothes are all ready for the line as early as nine in the morning. Snowy-white, exquisitely clean—just by soaking and rinsing!

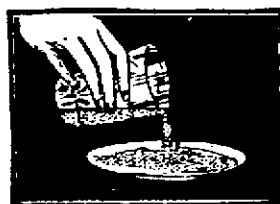

Yet there is nothing in Rinso to injure fabrics—nothing to destroy colors. In fact, the Rinso granules are made of finer quality ingredients than were ever used before for the family washing.

Pick out the things that used to make washday the hardest—the men's shirts, the children's rompers, your aprons, the hand towels that get so terribly grimy. Just soak them overnight in the pure Rinso suds, and in the morning you can actually just rinse the dirt out.

Rinso is not a washing powder

At first glance, the fine granules of Rinso look to you much like the ordinary washing powder. But make this test. Use a heaping teaspoonful each of Rinso and of ordinary washing powder to a glass of boiling water. After a few hours, this is what happens—

"WASHING POWDER"
—high in harsh chemicals
—low in soap
it pours out

RINSO
—absolutely harmless
—rich in soap
it "jells"

You can see from this test why Rinso gets your clothes clean just by soaking. It is so rich in soap—so high in cleansing value that it simply loosens and dissolves all the dirt in the fabric. It is so cleansing in itself that you do not need cake soap or washing powder at all. And it saves your clothes from constant rubbing over the hard metal washboard—from strong washing powders that "eat" the fabric. Soaking overnight in the pure Rinso suds is so much easier on your clothes that they actually last twice as long!

Wash your clothes the modern way the very next time. One package of Rinso will have the laundry for the whole family fresh and clean and on the line by 9 o'clock.

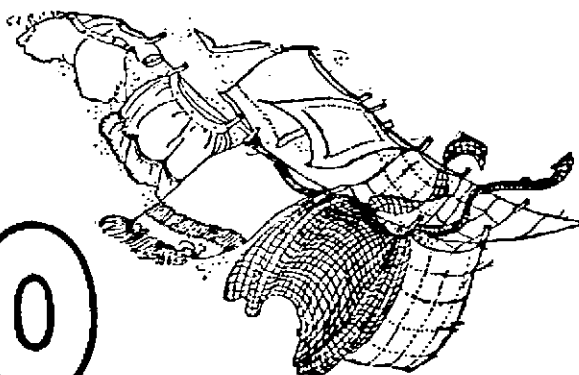

Get Rinso today from your grocer and just follow the easy directions on the back of the package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

5. "Blue Monday" comes to an end right now! With the very easiest, very newest way of washing clothes—you just soak them and rinse them—that's all!

JOHN J. DALTON DEAD

Well Known Vocalist Passed Away Last Evening After
Long Illness

John J. Dalton, one of the city's best known and most respected residents, died late yesterday afternoon at his home, 273 Summer street, after an extended illness. He was 29 years old.

Although he had been confined to his home for several months, his friends and relatives had looked forward to his complete recovery until recently, when he took a turn for the worse and gradually became weaker. Only those intimately associated with him were aware of the seriousness of his illness and to the general public the news of his death will bring sudden grief.

He enjoyed the acquaintance and respect of a wide circle of friends, all of whom will mourn his passing with genuine sorrow. For many years Mr. Dalton had been prominent in local musical circles, being a soloist of the Immaculate Conception church choir and an active participant in amateur theatricals to which he was always ready and willing to give valuable time. His appearance was always the signal for spontaneous applause at such affairs and few singers have been able to maintain their hold on the public so consistently as he. His ability in this respect, combined with a most affable and generous nature, readily won him innumerable friends.

In recent years he had conducted a taxicab service in Appleton street and here again his wide popularity and faithful application to business brought him almost immediate success. He maintained an active interest in this enterprise until stricken with illness last winter. Following medical treatment he was able to return to his business but only for a brief time. He was advised by his physician to remain at home until his health became fully restored and medical treatment soon brought encouraging results. Eventually, however, there came a decline which resulted in death late yesterday.

Mr. Dalton is survived by his wife, Mrs. Agnes Madigan Dalton; one sister, Miss Mary J. Dalton; two brothers, Francis M. and William E. Dalton, and an aunt, Mrs. Margaret A. McDonough.

WERE TOO FOND FOR CAKES AND COOKIES

When word of a break was telephoned to police headquarters about 10.30 last night, Sgt. Bigelow and Officers Robert Crowley, James Whitworth and James Maloney were instructed to go to the scene, the bakery of Hart and Co., 500 Merrimack street. On their arrival they arrested George Petrakos, of Market street and Joseph Konwicz of Austin street, minors, who had entered the bakery and had made a feast on some of the cakes and cookies. At the station they were booked for breaking and entering and larceny in the night time and will be held for trial before the court.

LIGGETT, BETS

$10,000 AGAINST WOOD

CHICAGO, June 10.—Very little money will change hands here over the outcome of the presidential contest unless the chances of the various candidates can be better sounded after the nomination speeches have been made. The average delegate or spectator who is inclined to take a sporting chance demands odds to which even the reckless gambler will not consent.

One wager was recorded last night, when Capt. R. J. Foster, a Wood booster from Newark, N. J., bet $10,000 even money that Gen. Wood will be the nominee. L. K. Liggett of Boston was the taker.

Alkali In Soap
Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Multisil coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One of two testimonials will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisil coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. —Adv.

WORK ON AUDITORIUM

Contractor Plans to Start Interior Construction Early in September

Work on the interior of Trophy hall, the foremost building of the group of structures which will go to make up Lowell's memorial auditorium when completed, will be under way in September, according to Contractor William Drapeau and sufficient progress will have been made on the other buildings of the group to permit inside work all winter, he said, today.

Although operations have been going on at the auditorium site less than two months, the foundation of Trophy hall has been completed and men are now at work on Liberty hall. Mr. Drapeau expects to start work on the superstructure of Trophy hall within a few weeks and once this is started the exterior of the building will go up rapidly so that plastering and the placing of interior marble may be under way in the early fall.

Among the preparations Mr. Drapeau plans in order to carry on work throughout the winter, is the installation of the central heating plant so that as soon as the buildings are erected, workmen can be employed inside even in the coldest of weather.

At the present time, there are some 60 men employed on the auditorium site. The contractor reports that he has had little difficulty in getting labor and most of it has been very satisfactory. Within a short time, the garage now occupied by George E. Dana will be torn down and the bricks in that building will be used in certain parts of the auditorium construction. The lunch cart now located on the East Merrimack street side of the site will be allowed to remain there for some time, as Mr. Drapeau finds it a handy place for his men, especially those who come from out of town, to get their noonday meal.

One group of workmen is at present engaged in filling in certain portions of the site with clinders from various local mills and soil taken from the site of the new Harrison hotel in Middle street. The combination makes an excellent filling, Mr. Drapeau says.

He is having little difficulty in getting supplies and materials as he needs them and shipments of brick, steel and terra cotta are now under way.

Quicker as to when the entire work will be finished, Mr. Drapeau said today that unless unforeseen difficulties arise the auditorium will be ready for dedication before the expiration of Mayor Perry D. Thompson's present term as mayor—which means before Dec. 31, 1921. The mayor is very eager to have the honor of accepting the building on behalf of the city inasmuch as he is a member of the commission erecting it and has put much time and energy into the various details entering into its construction.

LOWELL BOYS SCORE HIT IN LONDON

Two Lowell boys, Joe Doyle and Henry Brunette, known to the vaudeville world as the Crying Brunettes, recently scored a big hit at the Palladium in London, one of the leading English music halls, according to information recently received by friends of the young men in this city.

The Brunettes appeared at Keith's theatre here in Lowell a few months ago and later entered upon a European tour. Their act has been well received everywhere it has been presented.

ULTIMATUM FROM FOES OF TREATY

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 10.—Republican differences over the League of Nations ended yesterday in an open threat from irreconcilable senators to leave the party unless it declared flatly against the League of Nations.

The ultimatum was delivered in dramatic fashion at a conference of leaders. It put the league issue suddenly to the fore of all other questions before the national convention, not excepting even the nomination of a presidential candidate.

Senator Borah of Idaho, Brandegee of Connecticut and McCormick of Illinois represented the irreconcilables at the conference and former Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, in past conventions a national leader, spoke for the group demanding a plank for a league with reservations.

Senator Watson who was present to represent the party organization, took the role of peace-maker. Last night leaders were only half-heartedly attempting to conceal their apprehensions over the situation. Most of them grimly predicted an agreement, but none appeared too sure of his ground. In a session which lasted through the night a resolution subcommittee headed by Senator Watson sought to find a middle course which would hold the party together.

The presentation of honors for music was another feature of the occasion. This year a silver medal for the completion of a course on the harp was presented to Miss Estelle Coffey and this was considered an unusual achievement for a young woman in a school of the grade of Notre Dame.

Miss Helen Cameron was presented a silver medal for her work on the violin and Miss Margaret Donohoe and Miss Lucie Reault were awarded silver medals for completing a course in piano work.

Testimonials were awarded Miss Marguerite Bourgeois for her work in the violin course and to Miss Katherine Thomas and Miss Marietta O'Donnell in the piano course.

were debating what to do the word came from down-town that the platform sub-committee had agreed on a report and a few minutes later Senator McCormick of Illinois, one of the sub-committee members appeared on the speakers' platform and announced that a unanimous agreement had been reached by the sub-committee which promised union of the party and victory in November.

Mr. McCormick presented a motion for a recess until 4 o'clock but there was a roar of axes and hoes from the delegates and galleries and Chairman Lodge was compelled to call for a standing vote on which he decided that the majority wanted the recess.

Cardinal Gibbons Offers Prayer

Cardinal Gibbons who offered prayer today, was among the early arrivals. A committee escorted the venerable churchman to the platform, and as the delegates and visitors caught a glimpse of his red cap and sash a ripple of applause swept the hall.

DOUBLE DEADLOCK AS SESSION OPENED

CHICAGO, June 10.—The third day of the republican national convention opened with the party machinery, for the moment at least, doubly deadlocked.

The twelfth regular monthly dividend of one per cent, was declared by the Harvey Crude Oil Co. (of which the Universal Petroleum Corp. is now a part) to stockholders of record, May 29th, payable June 10th. E. W. Hewes, Secretary, Republic Bldg., Kansas City, Mo.

There had emerged from endless negotiating behind the scenes no agreement either as to a presidential candidate or on even a tentative draft of vital planks in the platform on which the party will stand.

Overnight, the League of Nations issue had been swept suddenly upward to position of overshadowing importance, almost of menace, in party councils. It was the rock on which the special harmonizing sub-committee on platform split after hours of fruitless labor toward a compromise.

Unable to agree on any declaration proposed to be incorporated in the platform, the sub-committee adjourned long after midnight. A disagreement report from the sub-committee faced the full committee on resolutions when it assembled at 9 a. m. to take up the task.

No Real Progress
Meanwhile the convention itself must mark time. No real progress could be made with its work and another early adjournment seemed likely today.

When the mask of the morp than 1000 footers delegates arose to resume the endless round of candidates' camps and other headquarters that fills the day for them, pending the final struggle of balloting, the air was tense with whispers of impending events. Undeniable rumors of serious rupture between factional leaders were abroad. There was talk of bolts and of what delegations would walk out in that case, and there was no one to say from where this talk came.

A few hours ago it was the anti-league forces against which a cry of prospective insurrection was raised. Yesterday the pro-league, the "reservationists" were openly charged by their opponents with having brought discord into the council of platform makers.

And underneath this dispute on is-

Crane Takes a Hand

The first sharp turn to the treaty question negotiations by the select sub-committee of the resolutions committee came yesterday when former Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, joining the ranks of those favoring qualified acceptance of the league covenant, served notice on the conferees, that such a course must be followed, or backed by senators who took that position in Washington. The fight would be carried to the floor of the convention.

This was turning the enemy's guns upon him with a vengeance. Previously apprehension had prevailed among those leaders struggling for party harmony that it would be the "irreconcilables" who would stir to action the uncertain waters of an "unbossed" convention if their views against the league were not met in the platform.

Baroque Battle in Hotel

For a moment the irreconcilable forces in the select committee, dominated by Senators Borah and McCormick, seemed taken aback. They sprang to arms then in full force and from that time until after 1 o'clock this morning the battle raged furiously behind locked doors of the hotel bedroom where the committeemen in shirt sleeves and worn by the long strain searched every avenue for possible escape from an open break.

Echoes of the contest spread swiftly to even the most outlying parts of the convention encampment. Toward the end, before the select committee gave up the task and decided to carry the league issue with several other important points back to the full committee on resolutions, the struggle overlaid the bedroom battlefront. A hasty conference in the corridor outside was held after midnight with Senator Smoot of Utah, a committee member laying before his colleagues, Senators Borah and McCormick, a draft plank not disclosed. Its nature was not disclosed, but Senator McCormick repudiated it with evidence of excitement. His shout of "No! No! No!" was audible through the hallway as the conference was broken off by his return to the committee room.

No Prospect of Agreement

From that meeting Senator Smoot carried the problem to another veteran of the historic struggle in the senate, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the convention. Senator Borah also saw Senator Lodge, but it was not indicated that any new proposal had resulted which was more promising of a peaceful solution than those that had been offered in the committee.

What course the resolutions committee would follow remained undisclosed when it met. Whether further deliberations by the sub-committee would be urged or a solution attempted with the full committee membership of more than 50 sharing in the debate, was not clear. In any case, it was evident that further attempts to patch up the impending break would be made with more delay in reporting to the convention involved.

The convention program also was not known in advance. Under rules, it has adopted, it has been suggested that the naming of a candidate might be proceeded with, leaving platform issues to be settled as "unfinished business" later. In any case the convention is to listen to many speeches of nomination and it appeared possible these would be delivered during the day to get them out of the way and clear the stage for balloting or for the treaty issue fight if there must be one in the convention forum.

A. F. OF L. CONVENTION

More Resolutions Introduced
at Session in Montreal

Today

MONTREAL, June 10.—Repeal of the transportation act of 1920, legislation providing for government ownership and democratic operation of the railroad systems and necessary inland waterways are urged in a joint resolution presented by seven international unions to the American Federation of Labor in annual convention here today.

The proposal now in committee, declares ownership is necessary to provide more adequate and cheaper transportation and to eliminate the "sinister influence of railroad corporations from our national life."

Military training in the schools and the establishment of compulsory military service or training is condemned as "unnecessary, undesirable and un-American" in a resolution proposed by the American Federation of Teachers.

Resolutions presented by the railway small association ask the executive council to aid in obtaining the abolishment of present unreasonable speed tests, time measuring devices and standards of personal efficiency in the postal service. They also demand establishment of an eight hour day with time and a half for overtime.

Seven international unions signed a resolution demanding repeal of the espionage act.

The policemen's union of Oklahoma City asked the federation to organize all policemen's unions in the United States and Canada into an international union.

The first committee reports on the 110 resolutions now before the convention were made when today's session opened.

ROAD SIGNS STEER MOTORISTS HERE

About 50 of the 150 new road signs being placed on roads within a 30-mile radius of Lowell by the committee on advertising of the local chamber of commerce, already are in place and will aid materially in steering motorists Lowell-ward.

Roads already covered include those in the vicinity of Framingham and Marlboro; Stoneham on the route to Reading; Arlington road via Burlington and the Arlington road by way of Woburn parkway. The sign placers were at work today in the vicinity of Bedford and Concord.

It is the wish of Paul Chaffoux, committee chairman, to completely cover all highways between Lowell and Boston before any work is done to the north, but it is believed that within a week or two all the main roads within the 30-mile radius to the north, east, south and west will be covered.

The signs being used are on substantial boards, painted yellow with black lettering, arrows pointing the way and the mileage.

Hairs Will Vanish After This Treatment

(Toilet Helps)

You can keep your skin free from hair or fuzz by the occasional use of plain delatone and in using it you need have no fear of marring or injuring the skin. A thick paste is made by mixing some of the powdered delatone with water. Then spread on the hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and all traces of hair have vanished. Be careful, however, to get real delatone.—Adv.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. John W. Sharkey, 8 Carter street. After an extended honeymoon trip through Canada and New York the couple will make their home in this city.

Young-Goucher

Mr. Norman Young of Augusta, Me., and Miss May MacCumber Goucher of Forge Village were married Tuesday at the home of the bride, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Earle Kernahan of West Roxbury. The bridesmaid was a sister of the groom, Miss Rachel Young, while the best man was Mr. William Goucher, a brother of the bride. The couple will make their home in Littleton.

Crites-Platts

Mr. Cecil Crites of Pasadena, Cal., and

Miss Grace Platts of this city were married May 30 at Pasadena. The couple are now spending their honeymoon along the Pacific coast and after July 1 they will be at home to their friends at 128 Chestnut street, Pasadena.

Yarnal-Dimodana

A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon when Mr. Dean B. Yarnal of Toledo, O., and Miss Grace Dimodana of this city were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed at 5 o'clock at St. Peter's rectory by Rev. D. J. Heffernan. The bride was attired in white georgette over white satin with picture hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Eva Mercier, who wore pink crepe de chine with hat to match and carried sweet peas. The best man was Mr. John Boulester. At the close of the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Dimodana, 271 Thorn-dike street. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a pair of kid gloves, while the groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. Mr.

and Mrs. Yarnal left in the evening on a two weeks' honeymoon trip to Providence, R. I., and New York and upon their return they will make their home at 271 Thorndike street.

When kerosene oil spilled from the spout of a can a man was carrying out of the grocery store of Howard K. Tooly, at Columbus, Ind., the man took a potato from a basket and was about to stick it on the spout, but Mr. Tooly took it away and gave him a gumball instead. "See here," said he, "potatoes at 12 1/2 cents a pound cost too much for stoppers."

FOR VOTE ON VOLSTEAD ACT

Governor Edwards Would
Liberalize Law of Prohibition
Enforcement

Says No Power Above People—Declares Prohibition
Will be Campaign Issue

SEA GIRT, N. J., June 10.—Governor Edward I. Edwards, a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, issued a statement here last night demanding liberalization of the Volstead act and calling upon "the people of the United States, lawfully and by the constitutional method prescribed, to pass judgment upon the act."

"This act has declared the 18th amendment to be a part of the constitution and the Volstead act to be its statutory interpretation," read the statement. "That act is open to such amendment as the duly elected representatives of the people may enact."

The People Rule

"No power exists which is paramount to the power of the people expressed at the polls. There alone is sovereignty. Every candidate for congress, every state and legislative officer, and the candidates for the presidency itself, will be called upon this coming November to declare their positions unmistakably on the same and reasonable interpretation of the constitutional amendment in favor of the permissive use of light wines and beers, each state to determine its regulations under the liberal limitations of a general federal statute.

"I appeal to the great and final referendum of the American people," Gov. Edwards denounced the Volstead act on these eight grounds:

The Eight Points

"1—It attempts to regulate the habits of millions of our citizens, in my judgment, of the vast majority of them.
"2—It places in the class of criminals and law-breakers millions of women all over the country who make light wines from home-grown fruits for their own domestic use, as did their mothers before them. It places in the criminal class millions of farmers who make and mature cider from their own orchards.
"3—It places a ban upon those millions of our population to whom, for untold generations, light wines and beers have been as much a part of their daily food as the bread upon their tables;
"4—It has already stimulated by this prohibition of simple and harmless beverages the illicit distillation of harmful liquors to 20-fold their former production. The very agents of enforcement, both state and federal, have become either blackmailers of the law-breakers or their partners in crime. A national scandal and disgrace are upon us. A force of one million men and the annual expenditure of two billions of dollars could not secure the adequate enforcement of this unwise and vicious legislation.
"5—It menaces our whole industrial fabric and millions of workers are filled with resentment at this invasion of their personal liberties.
"6—It is the main impelling cause, as shown by investigations of the federal department of labor why 2,000,000 men of foreign birth plan to return to their native lands. The department of state is refusing their applications for passports, while the department of justice is making mass arrests and threatening deportation among the very same class whose mental condition thereby borders upon panic and renders them the prey of every 'red' agitator.
"7—It falls between the two stools of state and federal authority. No law providing for concurrent jurisdiction of federal and state administration can successfully be enforced. Conflict of authority, jealousy and failure are inevitable.
"8—It blocks the way for consideration of vitally important post-war constructive legislation by the demoralization which this unwise and too drastic law has forced upon us."

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.
He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.
With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.
He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Dr. Allen, has been appointed agent for Allen's in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.—Adv.

SHOE PRICES TO DROP

The Bottom Has Fallen Out
of the Hide and Wool
Markets

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 10.—Hide dealers declare the bottom has fallen out of the hide and wool markets and are predicting $2.50 shoes within the near future.

Green salted hides which were selling for 18 cents a pound recently dropped to 12. N. B. LaBryer, manager of a hide company here, says the price will go lower, adding that the same condition exists in all the markets of the country. Calf hides, which six months ago brought a dollar a pound, have been offered lately at 25 cents. Mr. LaBryer continued, and then can get no buyer.

The decline in prices is due to the inability of tanners to ship their goods because of railway congestion and because of the fear of a credit stringency. Mr. LaBryer declared. Big stocks of high priced leather purchased several months ago are still on hand and they want to get rid of it before buying more. Mr. LaBryer also asserted that many tanneries have closed down entirely and others running half time.

The wool market shows an even worse state of demoralization, according to Mr. LaBryer. Wool which a year ago ranged from 50 to 55 cents a pound now is virtually impossible to get 25 cents for, he states. The demand for wool is so slight, he said, that no dealers are making purchases except where they get an opportunity to buy at such low prices that they are willing to take a chance.

The recent attempt of the Wool Growers' association to hold a wool sale at Enid, which was called off because there were no buyers, was cited by Mr. LaBryer as an illustration of the present day wool market situation. A single buyer offered 20 cents for the best grade of Shropshire wool if he could get a carload lot.

LOS ANGELES LARGEST CITY ON WEST COAST

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Los Angeles has outstripped San Francisco and become the largest city west of St. Louis during the last 10 years, the census bureau announcement of the populations of the two cities last night shows. It has also outgrown Buffalo, tenth largest in the country in 1910, as well as Milwaukee, Washington, Newark, Cincinnati and New Orleans. Los Angeles has now a population of 575,150, an increase of 256,252 while San Francisco has 508,119 inhabitants. Los Angeles' rate of growth was 56.3 per cent. compared with San Francisco's rate of 19.5 per cent. during the 10 years.

Announcement last night of the populations of San Francisco and Los Angeles, the two largest cities of the western half of the country, left only five of the 20 largest cities of the United States to be heard from in the 1920 census. These five are Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit and Kansas City, Mo., and until their populations are made public, the ranking of the country's 20 largest cities will remain somewhat doubtful.

San Francisco ranked as the 11th most populous city in 1910 with 414,212 inhabitants, having shown an increase of 71,159 or 21.6 per cent. during the decade. Los Angeles ranked 17th in 1910 with a population of 319,158, an increase of 215,711 or 211.5 per cent.

San Francisco ranked just under Buffalo in 1910 with 42,000 less people. Buffalo's 1920 population is 505,515. Milwaukee ranked just below San Francisco with 35,000 people less, and now has a population of 457,147.

Los Angeles ranked next below Washington, D. C., in 1910 with about 12,000 less people, and just above Minneapolis with about 15,000 more. Washington's 1920 population is 437,371 and Minneapolis has 350,125.

The following census figures were announced last night: San Francisco, 508,119; Los Angeles, 575,150; Pasadena, Cal., 45,331; Fresno, Cal., 44,516; Stockton, Cal., 40,226.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY

The Ladies' Aid society of the Centralville M. E. church held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Samuel Wertz, Canney's corner, Collinsville. It was planned to arrange for an all-day outing at the home of Mrs. Callahan, on Rogers street, Tewksbury, Wednesday, June 16. For this the Boston car will leave Merrimack square at 9:45 a. m. It was also voted for the society to furnish the Epworth league banquet on June 22. A general good time followed the business meeting.

FRITZ KREISLER SAILS

Goes With $20,000 Worth of "Food Draft" Orders on Relief Warehouse at Vienna

NEW YORK, June 10.—Fritz Kreisler, violinist, sailed today on the steamer Rotterdam for Vienna with more than $20,000 worth of "food draft" orders on the Hoover relief food warehouses, in Vienna. He will take personal charge of the distribution of food to the needy of Austria-Hungary, who belong to the intellectual classes. Thousands of professors, doctors, musicians, writers and persons of other professions are said to be in dire distress because their earnings have not kept pace with the advanced cost of living, and because, according to Mr. Kreisler, they are too proud to make known their plight.

N. E. CROP REPORT

Shortage of Farm Machinery and Fertilizer

WAKEFIELD, June 10.—Small receipts of fertilizer and farm machinery has tended to limit acreage of nearly all crops, according to the New England crop report today of V. A. Saunders, field agent of the bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture. Favorable weather during the last part of May, encouraged planting, however, and caused greater hopefulness for fair-sized crops.

The potato acreage will be materially reduced, the report says, due to high prices for seed and lack of fertilizer and labor. The apple blossom was fair to good. Peaches are reported a failure in New Hampshire, and indications are for an 8 per cent crop in Massachusetts and 25 per cent in Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Connecticut valley onions show an acreage on a par with last year. Home garden crops, although 10 days late, are growing well on an acreage comparable to the big plantings of the past three years. Hay promises an excellent crop in New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, but is disappointing in Maine and Connecticut. Clover acreage is somewhat less but good growth is reported throughout the region.

DROP IN PRICE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—A reduction in the wholesale price of sugar from $25.30 to $25 a hundredweight, was announced today by the Western Sugar refinery.

PRINCESS ROSPIGLIOSI, DAUGHTER OF AMERICAN WOMAN, DIES IN PARIS

PARIS, June 10.—Princess Francesca Rospiigliosi, daughter of Princess Joseph Rospiigliosi, formerly Miss Mary Jennings Reid of New Orleans and Washington, died at the family's country home near this city yesterday from complications arising from chronic malaria. Her condition was adversely affected, according to the Paris edition of the New York Herald, by the death of Alfredo Alligretti, a former Italian army aviator, 12 days ago, suicide being suspected in his case.

Princess Francesca Rospiigliosi was born Aug. 2, 1902. Her mother was formerly married to F. H. Parkhurst of Bangor, Me., but following her divorce was married civilly to Prince Rospiigliosi in 1901. Efforts were made to have the Vatican authorize a religious marriage in addition to the civil ceremony, but they failed until 1912. The prince died on Sept. 23, that year, and it was announced that a few hours before his death a religious ceremony of marriage had been performed by a Catholic priest. Besides Princess Francesca, one other child, Prince Joseph, was born to the couple.

Health came back with RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women.

MRS. ALFRED JUNEAU

Being the mother of a large family, besides having been the victim of three premature illnesses, I was in such a weakened condition that I really thought I was going to die. One day someone hinted that I should give RED PILLS a trial; I immediately started taking them, and continued doing so for about eight months. I gradually noticed that I was getting stronger, and so kept up the treatment for a year, with the result that I was completely recovered. Since that time, I have given birth to several children, who are all healthy and fine, thanks to my improved state of health after taking RED PILLS.

MRS. ALFRED JUNEAU,

Cohoes, N.Y.

RED PILLS are for women only. They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "Franco American Chemical Company Limited" is on every box.

"RALPH" STICKNEY DEAD

Former Exalted Ruler of Lowell Lodge of Elks Dies in Minneapolis

Word has been received in this city of the death of Ralph W. Stickney, better known as Ralph Stickney, former exalted ruler of the local lodge of Elks, in Minneapolis, Minn., on Tuesday, aged about 62 years.

Although born in Vermont, Mr. Stickney came to this city as a young man and conducted the first transfer business here under the firm name of the Stickney Transfer company. Later he was engaged in the liquor business in Market street opposite the Waverly hotel. Ten years ago he went to Oregon and from there to Minneapolis. He has been ill for some time and failed to recover from a recent operation. He is well known in this city, especially among members of the Elks. He was a brother of a former governor of Vermont.

CHURCH SUPPER AND ENTERTAINMENT

A supper and entertainment at the Highland Congregational church last evening were largely attended. The supper was served under the direction of Mrs. James Cheney and Mrs. Charles Willett. Misses Alice and Elsie Bradt were in charge of the entertainment program which consisted of the presentation of illustrated humorous poems and comic tableaux.

A play, "The Lady Doctor," was given with Berlake Mountain, Beatrice Warner and Parker McIlroy in the cast. "The Minuet," a representation of a thought, was also given with Vivian Lambertson dancing the minuet while the thought was pictured by Mrs. Eunice Corcoran.

Ethel Lombard and Elsie Bradt presented "The Third Party," and Miss Bradt also appeared in a character part in "The Portrait of a Lady." Mrs. A. M. Caswell presented "My Aunt," and the Misses Lombard and Bradt appeared again in "Enchanted by Her Beauty."

Music was furnished during the evening by Miss Dorothy Dobbins, piano; Miss Rachel Dobbins and Miss Virginia Sargent, mandolins, and Miss Leland Dowel, banjo-mandolin.

While engaged in rounding up alleged moonshiners, Federal Prohibition Enforcement Officer John O'Dea of Lowell had a narrow escape from death in an automobile accident near Tonawanda, N. Y., last Saturday night.

Officer O'Dea and a chauffeur, Paul Morkowicz of North Tonawanda, N. Y., were returning from the scene of a liquor raid at an Indian reservation at Pekin, N. Y., when another auto appeared in the road ahead of them coming from the opposite direction. To avoid a collision the driver of the O'Dea car swerved his machine to the side of the road. As he did so the car skidded and turned turtle.

Both Officer O'Dea and his companion were thrown out and seriously hurt. They were taken to a nearby hospital, fought in the village of Lathrup, but after an observation period of 48 hours it was announced that he had suffered no internal injuries. He was later told to return to his home for a period of rest. The chauffeur of the car received a fractured skull.

In the raid at the Indian reservation two stills and a large quantity of liquor were seized and three men were placed under arrest.

THIRD PARTY IN THE FIELD

Sun Correspondent Says Voters Will Have Third Party Candidate

Committee of Forty, Labor Party and Farmers' Alliance Will Attend To It

Hall Has Already Been Engaged for the Third Party Convention

Special to The Sun
CHICAGO, June 10.—What chance is there of a third party candidate? Does Hiram Johnson's promise not to belt remove the danger of such a complication? What about the Forty-lighters, the labor party and the Farmers Non-partisan league? Will Bob La Follette stand hitched? These are questions now being asked, in low tones and in whispered corners, by the republican bosses. Of course the bosses are not saying anything openly except that everything is all fine and that their particular candidate will be nominated on the third or fourth ballot. But, underneath there is far from a cheery or confident feeling.

No Real G. O. P. Harmony
For eight years the republican party has been kept out of the presidency by a lack of harmony in its own ranks. The progressive and reactionary wings have not snapped together. Here and now the progressive element is manifesting itself through Hiram Johnson, while the extreme of reaction is personified by the money-promoted candidates of Wood and Lowden.

The progressive defection killed Taft's chances in 1912. The same disaffection—although the party had been dissolved and Roosevelt had become regular—killed Hughes' chances in 1916. If the "old guard" now turn down Hiram Johnson—as they very likely will—and name some Lowden as a candidate, will there be a bolt of the republican voters?

This question, written on the background of the 1912 and 1916 political history, is beginning to loom like the biblical writing on the wall, and the prophets of Israel have been called in to read the writing.

The answer is at hand.

There'll Be Third Party

The voters will have a third party candidate. The committee of forty-eight is attending to that. So is the labor party and the Farmers Non-partisan alliance.

The hall has been engaged—the auditorium in this city—and the call has been issued for the third party convention to meet July 11, 12 and 13. The dates are the same for the labor party convention, which will also be held in Chicago. And, by a singular coincidence, the farmers of the northwest are planning a sort of political rally at the same time in the same city.

Some candidate agreeable to all three groups will be named. If the candidate is named by the labor convention the forty-lighters will endorse, or vice versa.

La Follette to Lead

The name most frequently mentioned in connection with this nomination is Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin. There has been talk also of Frank Walsh, formerly of the war labor board and the industrial relations commission. Also the name of Gov. Lynn Frazier of North Dakota is sure to figure. The ticket might be La Follette and Frazier, or La Follette and Walsh or Walsh and Frazier, or Frazier and Walsh.

It is significant that La Follette ran a set of delegates in the Wisconsin primaries on a platform which is almost identical with the tentative platform put out by the forty-lighters at

Clean Up Poison Soaked Kidneys Advises Dr. Carey

Thousands Die Every Year Because They Allow Poisonous Deposits To Accumulate in Kidneys

Don't flush your kidneys with harsh makeshifts, says Dr. Carey, they are too frail and delicately constructed to treat them rough.

Beware of kidney disease—thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health.

It has conquered thousands of cases of kidney and bladder diseases and is the medicine you can always depend upon.

USING UP VITALITY

The struggle for success uses up vitality in America at a greater rate than any other thing. Fighting to keep away from the poor-house we shorten the distance to the grave.

Especially in middle age, at forty or thereabouts, do we become impressed with the necessity of laying up a competence and with that feeling in time comes worry, nervous breakdown, neurasthenia. The entire system feels the result of the nervous strain. The digestion rejects things that it accepted before, the heart palpitates on slight exertion, the muscles of the back ache after a day's work. Your blood is thinner and not so bright a red.

When these things occur, whether you are fourteen or forty you need a tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills suit most peoples' need because they are non-alcoholic and they really build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. They are useful for growing children and for men and women whose nervous energy has been overtaxed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents a box by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System."—Adv.

St. Louis. This platform declared the restoration of civil liberties, against the League of Nations in its proposed form, against injunctions in labor cases, against preferential treatment in favor of government ownership of railroads and other public utilities, and for placing the burden of taxation on war profits. On this platform the La Follette delegates won by a two-to-one vote.

Out of Harmony

The Wisconsin delegation to the Chicago convention does not this year present La Follette as a candidate, but the delegation is instructed to support a "platform for the republican party embracing these principles and a candidate for president whose public record is a guarantee that he is in full accord therewith."

La Follette never has bolted the republican party. It is entirely out of accord with what represents the party now here in Chicago, and his Wisconsin delegation will be like a voice in the wilderness. If La Follette is nominated by the independents and laborites who will meet here next month his name will go on the ballot not as a republican, but by petition as some kind of an independent under some name to be selected when the convention meets. IRISH STOWAWAY TENOR SENT HOME

NEW YORK, June 9.—Francis O'Brien, a young strapping famous on Ellis Island as a stowaway and as a tenor of promise, who is on the high seas today on his return voyage to Ireland, is a living proof that a birth certificate may sometimes prove an essential document in the pursuit of a career as a singer.

Were it not for his lack of such a document as proof of his contention that he was born in Philadelphia and that his parents took him to Ireland when he was four years old, young O'Brien might now be winning the hearts of American music lovers, as did John McCormick, the emulation of whose career led the lad to secrete himself on an American-bound vessel some three weeks ago.

Instead, immigration officials, who have only cold legal instructions to guide them in making decisions, saw fit to place him on an outgoing ship and let him try to establish the essential facts concerning his birth after his return. O'Brien, however, disappointed of being able to prove much about his origin, because his father and mother are both dead and he has no relatives in Ireland.

The young tenor's fame as a singer probably would never have started to spread had it not been for a slight illness contracted on Ellis Island, causing him to be placed in the hospital for treatment. The nurses there became enchanted with his singing, and before he was deported he was giving concerts for the other inmates of the hospital as well as for the inhabitants of the island generally. As a result O'Brien's name today is on the lips of all Ellis Island. The hospital attendants were calling his name with tender eulogy and expressing extreme sorrow that he had to go back.

O'Brien is only one of hundreds of such cases that are sent back to their original place of embarkation every month. There are 50 stowaways on the island now awaiting orders to go back, never having seen more of New York than its enchanting skyline. Every incoming ship from no matter what port, according to immigration officials, brings from two to ten stowaways, and almost all of them have a fruitless voyage to this country.

MORE DETAILS ON THE FLIGHT OF CARRANZA

MEXICO CITY—Wild confusion attended the evacuation of the Mexican capital by President Carranza and his following.

Rolling stock had been gathered at the Mexican railway terminal in preparation for their departure. When word was passed down through the various government departments that the exodus was about to begin, thousands of government employees, leading civilians who had been strong supporters of the Carranza regime, partisan journalists and others headed for the trains on foot and every kind of vehicle obtainable.

Throughout the night before the trains left, a constant stream of coaches and automobiles deposited government officials, politicians and other government hangers-on at the railway station amid a babel of cries and entreaties to porters and expressmen.

Next morning they came in increased number.

Loaded down with bulging bundles, suit cases, bags, hampered by dogs crying children and confused servants, the procession might have been taken for a gigantic picnic party had it not been for the strained, frightened expression on the fugitives' faces.

The national railways were the first to store their impediments on the trains assigned to them. Then came government officials shepherding porters with great stacks of records, and office furniture. In the excitement, the officials had fallen to show discrimination, for many of the cargoes consisted of hat racks, cupboards and even window curtain rods. All this heterogeneous mass was dumped into passenger coaches and gondolas and between pieces of artillery and airplane equipment on flat cars.

While some of the porters complied with their duty, others were to be seen streaking not toward the Buenavista station, but toward the poorer sections of the city, carrying what evidently will find a ready sale in the capital's curio and second-hand shops.

At only one track was there a semblance of order—the siding where the treasure cars had been spotted. Here Luis Cabrera was in command and, after the trains left, not even a copper centavo was found by treasure seekers. There were 300 cars of all classes and

24 locomotives in the station ready to leave by midnight. Estimates as to the soldiers and civilian refugees vary, but the generally accepted figure is placed at about 5000, a village on wheels.

For hours the fugitives waited, but the trains did not start and flying rumors kept the occupants of the cars peering anxiously into the night for the vanguard of the revolutionary forces. Agents of the liberal constitutionalists had tampered with the train crews and it was necessary to send patrols to round them up.

Next morning locomotive bells began to clang, whistles shrieked and a great wave of weeping farewells arose.

Bursting with soldiers and women camp followers, officials and civilians, baggage and munitions, airplanes, artillery, boxes of coin, piles of gold and silver bars, government records, cupboards and hat racks, the trains moved slowly into the suburbs. The Carranza government had started to move the capital.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

HAIR GROWN ON MR. BRITAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIANS' MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER

My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that as he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth. Yet now, at an age over 60, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs.

Indians' Secret of Hair Growth
At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. Day into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days.

That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious poultice. I regulated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalko, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. Thus my own hair growth was permanent has been simply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Kotalko.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair
My honest belief is that hair roots rarely die even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fever, excessive depression or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often when hair falls out the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by hard skin, so that they remain for a time like bulbs or seeds in a bottle which will grow when fertilized. Shampoos (which contain alkalis) and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Kotalko contains those elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

PROVE FOR YOURSELF
Get a box of the genuine Kotalko at a reliable druggist's $3.00-50 GUARANTEED with each box. A small testing box of Kotalko (with testimonials, etc.) may be obtained by sending ten cents, silver or stamps, to my address below.

BRECKENRIDGE LONG
QUITS STATE DEPT.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Breckenridge Long, third assistant secretary of state, has resigned and his resignation has been accepted by President Wilson.

Mr. Long retired to make the race for the nomination for U. S. senator from his home state, Missouri, and has left for St. Louis to take personal charge of his campaign.

Officials generally professed to have no information as to Mr. Long's successor.

Mr. Long entered the state department as third assistant secretary in January, 1917. The principal work assigned to him by his assistants was the recent negotiation of a consular convention of the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan to provide loans to China. He was entrusted especially with far eastern affairs and represented the department in accompanying the various official missions visiting this country during and since the war.

AN OPEN LETTER TO PILE SUFFERERS

Says Had Every Kind of Piles Known, Suffered Torture, Three Doses of Miro Treatment Cured.

Mrs. T. G. Greenough of 8 Union Street, Lynn, Mass., writes: "I suffered with piles, not only one kind but every kind known, bleeding, protruding, internal and external. I had only known what I suffered. I tried all kinds of salves and ointments but not one did me any good. Could lie down with difficulty and could not sit even on a rubber cushion. Read about Miro in our local paper and had my husband get a bottle the next day from a Boston druggist.

"Would you believe I had only taken three doses when I was walking around and feeling pretty good. I had made up my mind I could not live in the condition I was in for another week unless I got relief. You certainly have a Godsend in Miro. I cannot praise it too highly.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS
WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antidote than Bismarated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a diuretic. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the medicinal action naturally and healthfully without need of purgative pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bismarated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bismarated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat." Largest Riker-Jaynes drug store—50¢.

There are 100 shares of common stock of the par value of $100 each. Four hundred shares are now issued, 105 payable in cash, 250 in merchandise and other property, and 45 in good will.

The officers and directors of the corporation are: Frederick L. Parchett of Brookline, who subscribes for 50 shares, president and clerk; Sadie E. B. Shepard of Braintree, who subscribes for 250 shares, treasurer; and Lillian R. Pritchard, who subscribes for 25 shares, vice president.

HUB'S SOURCE OF SUPPLY

Big Liquor Raid at Weymouth—700 Gallons of Whiskey Destroyed

EAST WEYMOUTH, June 10.—One of the largest liquor raids to be effected in this state was executed here yesterday afternoon by Prohibition Enforcement Agent William J. McCarthy and six deputies when they raided a house on Pleasant street near Lovell's Corner, seizing enough apparatus to run a large sized liquor distillery and destroying 700 gallons of moonshine whiskey.

The arrested Jacob Kark of Orange street, Chelsea, whom they found in the house, and he was taken to station 4, Boston.

The house raided was supposed to have been unoccupied and has been under surveillance for some time. The liquor was in barrels, which were taken outside the house and broken by the deputies. Included in the goods seized were 50 gallons of mash in the process of fermentation, two 50-gallon galvanized barrels, two 50-gallon copper stills, a large quantity of coloring substance, 55 pounds of yeast, 21 empty barrels, pipes, tubing and two gas stoves.

It is believed by the federal authorities that much of the moonshine whiskey which has been sold in Boston recently was manufactured here. The parties interested in this illegal venture secured the necessary heat for distillation purposes by surreptitiously tapping the main of the Old Colony Gas company.

Approximately 400 vessels, with a total of 650,000 tonnage, were launched on the Clyde river during the last year, the output almost reaching the record of ship construction on the Clyde.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

Beginning today and continuing the remainder of the week the feature picture offering at The Strand will be William Farnum in "The Adventurer" and Miss Madeline Travers in "The Iron Heart." Besides these there will be a brand new comedy and the latest Weekly. Don't miss this unusually strong bill.

"The Adventurer" presents the star in a typical Farnum role, and one in which the many followers of the star are promised much. Farnum is cast as a romantic lover who is as sure with his sword as with his heart. As the hero of "The Adventurer" he is certain to score, for it is the type of role in which he has won his greatest fame as an actor. His ability is as unquestioned as is the fact that he has the largest following of any male screen star in the world. In this rule he is offered a chance to display those fine histrionic touches which have elevated him to his present position.

As usual, a sturdy supporting cast has been given him in his latest picture offering.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Few motion picture directors have tackled intelligently the subject of matrimony and made it thoroughly entertaining pictures on the theme. Among the few who have succeeded Cecil B. De Mille stands head and shoulders above the rest. His latest picture, "The Iron Heart," showing all this week at the Merrimack Square theatre. For an intelligent survey of the matrimonial field, there is nothing better than this picture. It is a comedy, the International News and a humor times travel picture round out the bill.

Care and Responsibility.

THE responsibility attached to the preparing of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared: could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for, the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

Children Cry For Fletcher's
CASTORIA

A Word About Truth.

"Great is Truth, and mighty above all things." So says the Old Testament, yet it is equally true to-day. Truth shows no favors, fears no enemies.

From the inception of Fletcher's Castoria, Truth has been the watchword, and to the conscientious adherence to this motto in the preparation of Fletcher's Castoria as well as in its advertising is due the secret of its popular demand.

All imitations, all substitutes, all just-as-good preparations lack the element of Truth, lack the righteousness of being, lack all semblance even in the words of those who would deceive.

And you! Mothers, mothers with the fate of the World in your hands, can you be deceived? Certainly not.

Fletcher's Castoria is prepared for Infants and Children. It is distinctly a remedy for the little-ones. The BABY'S need for a medicine to take the place of Castor Oil, Paregoric and Soothing Syrup was the sole thought that led to its discovery. Never try to correct BABY'S troubles with a medicine that you would use for yourself.

GIRLS! BUTTERMILK CREATES BEAUTY OVERNIGHT

The first application of Howards' Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost by magic, but the most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the roughest and most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red, or rough, or snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

It is absolutely harmless and will neither produce or stimulate the growth of hair. Within twenty-four hours this wonderful combination called Howards' Buttermilk Cream will work a marvelous transformation. Careful Shoppers: Beware! Fred Howard, 127 Central St., can supply you. That's because they are playing First National pictures, which is all composed of specials. This week, for instance, Griffith's master picture, "The Idol Dancer," is proving a revelation in story theme, as well as picturization. Action, which includes the wonderful dance of White Almond Flower, during which no one is seated, the fight at the missionary's house, the touches of humor, are all Griffith master touches. The remainder of the bill changes today and is up to the standard, but the "Idol Dancer" finishes out the week.

At the same time, the management announces a favor night for tomorrow night, and is ready to sign up for a first night, for a week from tomorrow night.

Secretary Colby expressed regret at the attacks made on President Wilson.

Mayor Thompson thinks the city will need more money. It's in the same box then as most of its citizens.

With the price of coal in Lowell advanced to $16 per ton the man who was predicting that the price would go to $20 before next winter may yet be hailed as a real prophet.

The curtailment of woolen mill production to three days a week may be necessary, but it is not a measure that is likely to give an impetus to a hoped-for eat in the price of clothing.

A not unremarkable feature of the presidential nomination campaign is that General John J. Pershing has not even had a place on the track among the leading dark horses.

It is announced that the city's playgrounds will be opened on July 5. Why wait until that date? The need for the playgrounds will begin to be felt the day after the schools close.

The state commission on the necessities of life announces that the cost of living in Massachusetts advanced four per cent last month. It would be interesting if the commission would also tell us some of the causes of the increase and whether it is justified.

That former state prison guard who gave as a reason for not shooting at escaping prisoners 150 feet away that he wanted to save his ammunition until he could come to closer quarters with the fleeing men, would seem to be altogether too prudent a man for the job he held.

It is to be hoped that the protest of the board of directors of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce against the continued exportation of coal will bear fruit in time, but meanwhile Europe is gobbling up our fuel supply and New England's industries are facing the prospect of empty coal bins next winter.

Lady Astor says, "I am not quite certain that all of the men quite trust either me or my sex." Goodness, what a multitude of men who turn their pay envelopes over to the "missus" every Saturday night think of this? Yet surely the men are more trustful of the opposite sex than are the women.

William Jennings Bryan has been at Chicago urging the republicans to put a strong "dry" plank in their platform. Judging by what is commonly believed to be the feeling of most republicans toward Mr. Bryan he might have succeeded better in securing what he was after if he had asked for a "wet" declaration.

A big boom is on in Boston's matrimonial market, and the announcement is made that all previous records have been beaten in the number of marriage licenses issued. Perhaps the census statement showing that the city has not been keeping up with other places in the race for increased population has made an appeal to the municipal pride of the young people.

Although some of the county jails are closed and others are nearly tenantless, the cost of maintaining the institutions is to continue at the rate of nearly $300,000 for the current year. But even with empty jails it does not seem that there will be any corresponding economy for the taxpayers for awhile at least.

From the slight attention that seems to be given to the selection of a vice presidential candidate at Chicago, the delegates would appear to have forgotten that during the years since the Civil war, the White House has been occupied during a considerable part of the time by a man who was elected to fill the office of vice president.

LOWELL GUILD

To raise funds for establishing a baby station on the South common, we understand, is the purpose of the tax day for the Lowell Guild on Sunday. If the Guild can start such a station, it will be able to render aid to many children suffering from disease or from the lack of suitable food, probably the most prevalent ailment of young children in this and other cities. It is to be hoped the Guild will be enabled thus to extend its usefulness.

A WORTH-WHILE FOURTH

The municipal council has made a start toward giving the city of Lowell a worth-while celebration of the Fourth of July by authorizing the mayor to go ahead and arrange a program for the day and by instructing the purchasing agent to buy a supply of fireworks.

This is a move in the right direction, but unfortunately it does not appear to go quite far enough. There is now available for the purposes of defraying expenses connected with the celebration of the holiday $600. This is very much less than has been spent in previous years.

At this time there is need that the anniversary of the nation's birth should be celebrated in as complete and impressive a way as possible. Since the noise of cannon crackers and pistols was tabooed on the holiday there has been a gradual tendency to let the annual celebration go by default.

If we are to have only real Americans as citizens of state and nation in the future, it must be by keeping vividly at the front, visible to the outward eye, reminders of the great events of the past that have made the nation's existence possible.

THE CHARTER

Much will depend upon the ability, experience and fair-mindedness of the men whom Mayor Thompson will appoint to take up the question of a new charter. They should be men who have known the workings of the old city charter as well as the new, men who realize the merits of vesting executive authority in the mayor and legislative functions only in the council, while having the departments in charge of competent heads, responsible to the mayor and the council.

The increased membership and the elimination or diminution of the salary feature would overcome two of the principal defects in the present charter, while the separation of the executive and legislative authority would be another improvement in line with common sense and the custom approved by universal experience. Under such a system, the mayor would be the leading official, vested with large executive powers, including that of veto on the acts of the council. As such, he should have a liberal salary so that he might be able to get men of real business capacity to accept the position.

FOR $36 TAX RATE

Commissioner Murphy will not have many supporters outside the employes of his department in his suggestion for a $36 tax rate and lavish expenditure in the street department. At no time in the past have we heard any member of the city government come out so strongly for what may be termed extravagance. The commissioner reflects upon the equipment of the department, but with all due respect to his judgment, we believe that with the present equipment and the expenditure of the past year, he might have shown better results.

We are not opposed to street or any other employes getting fair wages; but we are opposed to the attitude of the street commissioner in making such a statement as he did at Tuesday's meeting, in favor of pushing up the expenditures.

The taxpayers never make a great howl over the expenditure of liberal sums of money if they feel that satisfactory results are shown, but they are howling quite lustily at the present time over the condition of the streets.

Possibly the tax rate this year will be a little higher than last year, but a jump such as that suggested by Mr. Murphy would cause a general increase in rents throughout the city, although it appears that a great many people are complaining of the rents being already too high.

BACK TO SHAKESPEARE

It is a pity that the example of the students of the Rogers Hall school in presenting Shakespeare's "As You Like It" in the open air on the beautiful lawn adjoining the school, cannot be more generally followed. The benefit to the students in becoming familiar with the wonderfully beautiful diction and the entrancing dialogue of the great dramatist is incalculable, while those who witness such performances are given a rich treat.

Shakespeare and the older dramatists seem to have gone almost entirely out of date. Public attention is turned almost wholly in the direction of vaudeville, musical comedies and the movies. These are all of them very well in their respective places, but not any or all of them can fully take the place of the stage with the passions, the weaknesses, the ambitions and the failures of real men and women portrayed in dramatic action.

If it were not for occasional performances such as that at Rogers Hall, we might almost conclude that all taste for the classic and beautiful in dramatic literature had died out. As it is, we can believe that such a taste still exists and will come into a fuller development again at some time in the future.

THAT COUNTY BILL

Somehow the Boston Herald and other papers got twisted on the bill providing for an appropriation of $600,000 to increase the salaries of certain Middlesex county employees, but not of the commissioners, as alleged by the Herald.

Indeed, as already shown in this paper, the commissioners were strongly opposed to the measure as it embodied an attempt to go over their heads and secure from the legislature, what they had refused or at least what depended upon their discretionary power.

It was on this ground that the governor vetoed the bill, a fact made clear in his veto message, when he said:

"It would seem to be the duty of the law-making power of the commonwealth to support the opinions of the county commissioners rather than to override them. . . . Whatever the duly constituted county authorities may ask for in this direction would have my hearty approval."

The expenses of the county, like every other department of government, are running to unprecedented heights and the figures will elicit criticism no doubt; but while the commission may or may not be open to criticism in this direction, any charge that they have been trying to boost their own salaries, is wholly without foundation; yet for some inexplicable reason it has been spread far and wide by the erratic statements of one or two newspapers.

A LAND OF HORROR

Bolshevik Russia today is a "land of horror"—quoting J. Herbert Duckworth, who has just come out of that sovietized country.

"The people are slowly starving to death," he cables from Reval, "and Bolshevism is slowly decaying."

Duckworth was sent into Russia by the Newspaper Enterprise Association, to investigate actual conditions from an unprejudiced viewpoint, with eyes and ears open to both sides, so that he might tell Americans exactly what Russia has done with this latest governmental experiment.

Before he went to Russia, Duckworth was inclined toward liberalism in government, leaning toward radicalism, in fact. By that one may know he was not influenced in his investigations by any preconceived anti-socialist opinions. Down deep in his heart Duckworth probably had hoped to find a successful experiment in government by and for the people, an advanced form of freedom, liberty and happiness. But he found:

"Ninety per cent of the Russian people are sick of the experiment."

Why? He answers:

"There is no liberty, no food, no clothing, no happiness—only misery and starvation."

And, again, why? He explains:

"The Bolsheviks are good destroyers but poor builders."

There you have the secret of the soviet failure. Russia cannot—no country can—have liberty, food, clothing, happiness, through the medium of a government based upon division of what has been accumulated, founded upon the doctrine of destruction of what is built upon the sands of no-ambition, no individual goal, no private initiative.

Probably, to some, Bolshevism sounded pleasantly enough—as a theory of government. In actual working out, Duckworth proclaims it "the ghastly nightmare."—N. E. A.

BOLSHEVIKI HOLD UP MOVEMENT

LONDON, June 10.—The Bolsheviks have held up the forward movement begun in the Crimea early this week by the army of General Wrangel, who succeeded to the command of the remnants of the Denikin forces in southern Russia. It is reported in Wednesday's official soviet statement from Moscow today.

SEEN AND HEARD

No, the bones is not all gone. But it will be some day, and then, well—

The profiteer's head is thick, but the constant drop of prices wears away the hardest bone.

Even in Mexico prices are outrageous. They are bidding 100,000 pesos for Villa's head.

A lot of the presidential timber is casting furtive eyes on the direction of the tall timber.

Open Sesame

"Did you have any trouble in seeing that captain of industry whose time is reported to be worth almost a million a minute?"

"None at all."

"How did you contrive to get into his private office?"

"I stood just outside the door and engaged his secretary in a loud conversation about golf, in which I displayed a superior knowledge of the game."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

"The Harvester"

There are still a few of the old time "stock" companies touring round the smaller towns. One of these had at least 20 plays on its list. Recently it was giving a show in a village hall. The performance was pretty bad, but the villagers found it quite interesting till, at the great climax in the third act, the hero forgot his part. After an embarrassing silence of about two minutes he hissed audibly, to the prompter.

"What's the line?"
"What's the play?" the prompter hissed back from his little box as he grabbed a pile of two or three dozen books and began to run through them feverishly.

The Final "G"

After his daughter came home from the fashionable boarding school she had insisted on attending, the old man, who had made his fortune in ways that are dark, realized that he was in for a bad time. She wished to pass all her culture along to him, and he didn't want it.

"Now, father," she said primly one day, "how often have I told you that it's bad form to drop the final 'g' in words? And there you've just said 'go!' instead of 'going.' Really, it's too bad of you!"

The old man thought it was time the form turned. Certainly he felt like a worm.

"Listen to me, my dear," he said solemnly. "I have a question to ask."

"Yes, father," his daughter replied encouragingly, thinking that the lessons were at last having effect.

"Well, may I drop the final 'g' in 'less'?"

My Mother

My mother is my heart's ideal
Of all that's dear and good.
Her life is radiant with love
And gracious womanhood.
She's sympathetic, gentle, kind;
She understands a lad;
And oh, she's just the truest friend
A fellow ever had.

With joy and earnestness
I sacrifice myself to her.
To sacrifice herself and serve
Her loved ones is her creed.
She practices her faith in God
With joy and earnestness;
Her ministry's a miracle
Of sweet unselfishness.

My mother is my pal of pals;
She's all the world to me!
I owe her everything I am
And all I hope to be.

I want to live a life like hers.
And oh, I want to prove
Myself deserving of her faith
And worthy of her love!

—John H. Styles, Jr., in Christian Herald.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

There are few legacies that a father can bequeath a son ambitious to get on in politics that is likely to prove more valuable than a short name. As evidence of the truth of this statement consider the names of the men most prominent in the race for the presidency in both political parties. With the single exception of Coolidge, they all have names of six or seven letters or less. There is a reason for this—or at least there appears to be. A distinguished politician observed some time ago, "Let me write the newspaper headlines and I care not who writes the nation's laws." There is an element of truth behind this observation. The value of advertising to an aspirant for public office is incalculable. The most successful way in which to secure advertising of the highest class and of the widest possible appeal is to get into the headlines of the papers.

The headline writers have their troubles. Their work is bounded by iron—or shall we say lead—rules. There is just so much space to be filled and it will take a certain number of letters and no more to fill it. For this reason the headline artists have a strong preference for short words, and when a man with a long name gets into the limelight he may shine in the small type of the news columns but not often in the 30 to 120-point captions on the front page. All of our presidents since modern headline writing became an art have had short names or some short popular designation that served in place thereof. Roosevelt was not lucky in the name that he inherited, but the handicap was overcome by the fact that he was known throughout his public career as "Teddy" and T.R. Cleveland, from the time that he became governor of New York, was known countrywide as "Grover."

I note that the spring issue of the telephone directory has across the top of its outside cover page the caption: "Please destroy the old directory." As far as I remember the company has never given so prominent a place to this exhortation in previous numbers, although there has always been some mention of the necessity of doing away with the old directories so that subscribers would use only the latest information available when calling persons in this city and the surrounding towns. It has been the custom of the company, I understand, to collect the old books as the new ones were distributed, but in many instances the old directories are not available when the

IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Decision on Section of Lever

Law, Commonly Known as

Food Control Bill

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—That section of the Lever law, commonly known as the food control bill, which makes it an offense for a merchant to charge "unjust or unreasonable prices," was yesterday held to be unconstitutional by United States District Judge Thompson.

The ground for invalidating section 4 of the act, Judge Thompson holds, is because its description of "unjust and unreasonable prices" is vague, indefinite and uncertain and in violation of the sixth amendment to the constitution guaranteeing any defendant the right to full information of the nature of the charge against him.

The section of the Lever act relating to prices must fall, Judge Thompson decides, because it does not set up a standard upon which a jury can determine, while trying a defendant accused of profiteering, whether he has made an unjust and unreasonable charge for necessities.

In declaring the section unconstitutional the court granted an injunction to Lamborn & Co., sugar brokers of New York, restraining United States Dist. Atty. McAvoy and other federal officials from issuing warrants for the arrest of 11 members of the firm on charges of profiteering.

POLAND TO SEND PEACE NOTE TO RUSSIA

WARSAW, June 9.—(By Associated Press.)—Poland will send a peace note to the Russian soviet government within a few days, according to newspapers here.

Fess Whitaker, jailer of Letcher County, Ind., got into a fight and was sent by County Judge Collins to his own jail. Having a key to the jail, he let himself out, and later was indicted on a charge of breaking jail, and was sentenced to serve six months. Gov. Morrow has refused to remit the sentence.

As publisher of the Newport Mercury, a weekly newspaper, Judge Scott said today that while Mr. Sanborn's collapse, he had been president of the Rhode Island senate and a speaker of his house of representatives. A son, son was doing all in his power to assist Alvah H. Sanborn, is engaged with him.

SHORTAGE OF $109,000

John P. Sanborn, Treasurer

of N. E. O. of P. Said to

Have Speculated in Stocks

BOSTON, June 10.—The discovery of a shortage of $109,000 in the accounts of John P. Sanborn of Newport, R. I., as supreme treasurer of the New England Order of Protection was announced by Judge H. William Scott of Barre, Vt., supreme warden of the order, today. Mr. Sanborn, in a state of collapse, according to Judge Scott, has resigned his office, and George W. Howe of Quincy, supreme vice warden, has been appointed to succeed him.

Judge Scott said that the shortage as uncovered to date, extended back 42 years. Treasurer Sanborn, who is 74 years of age, has held the office 23 years. Further audit of the accounts is being made. As now disclosed, according to the supreme warden, $11,000 in bonds and $55,000 in cash is missing.

Much of the losses, it was said, was traced to speculation in stocks. All of the bonds, and some of the cash, were located in brokers' offices. Efforts will be made to recover these funds, but no immediate action, criminal or civil, against Sanborn has been decided upon, because of the former treasurer's condition, it is said.

The stability of the order, which is a fraternal insurance organization with approximately 25,000 members in New England, is not affected, it is claimed. Losses are expected to be covered by a bond of $100,000 and Judge Scott said the order had over $300,000 of additional funds free and clear.

The shortages, he said, were all found in the accounts which the treasurer kept at his home or with local banks at Newport, accounts in this city being intact. It was an objection by Mr. Sanborn to a decision by a com-

Mother of Five Leads Suffrage Fight For Needed 36th State

MRS. THOMAS N. HEPBURN and
MARION HEPBURN

MRS. THOMAS N. HEPBURN, STATE CHAIRMAN OF THE NATIONAL WOMAN'S PARTY OF CONNECTICUT, AND THE YOUNGEST OF HER FIVE CHILDREN

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 10.—The stubbornness of Gov. Marcus H. Ho'comb is exasperating. To every appeal made to him to call a special session of the legislature to ratify the woman suffrage amendment he replies: "I still do not believe that a special emergency exists."

This answer in the face of the fact that nearly 17,000,000 women will be disfranchised unless one more legislature ratifies the Anthony amendment.

Perhaps Governor Ho'comb would agree with anti-suffrage politicians who say "nobody wants equal suffrage except a few childless women." If he was not being pursued by a woman who has five bright little ones, and who knows the need of the ballot in the hands of all the women to protect all the children of the nation.

This woman is Mrs. Thomas N. Hepburn, Connecticut state chairman of the national woman's party, who has been hot on the trail of the chief executive for several months.

Mrs. Hepburn has proved to this obstinate governor that suffragists do have children, and that the more they have the harder they fight for better government and more freedom. She has kept the governor busy explaining his frail reason for not calling a special session. Following are some of the things she has found time, after taking good care of her children, to engineer:

Made a canvass of the state last fall and got a majority of the legislators to petition the governor for a special session.

Caused the republican central committee to strongly urge the governor to convene the legislature.

Caused the republican state convention to adopt a resolution urging the governor to call the legislature together.

Organized a men's republican rally.

Sure Relief

tion committee, to holding a hearing before the governor, which recommended to him it was for the party's good that he call a special session.

Brought about numerous mass meetings of both men and women who urged Governor Ho'comb to wake up.

To each request Governor Ho'comb has replied: "There's no special emergency."

"We still believe that the national republican leaders can make Governor Ho'comb see this emergency if they will just be firm with him," declared Mrs. Hepburn. Mrs. Hepburn's husband is a well-known physician here.

SHANGHAI, June 10.—The American woman's club of Shanghai will present a request to the General Federation of Women's clubs in America urging that body to hold its 1922 convention in Shanghai. This request is to be presented at the federation convention at Des Moines, Ia., by Mrs. Charles S. Lobingier, wife of the judge of the United States court for China, who is a former president of the Shanghai American Women's club and who will represent it at the Des Moines meeting.

Flowered Silk Combines Rose and Orient Blue

It is a wonderful Orient blue, with roses and foliage in near-natural colors. The little vest that shows between the edges of the surplice waist is plain, soft, dull green as, also, is the sash which ties, French fashion, directly at the side. The tunic is in two straight sections, finished separately and mounted to the brassiere top so that the sides fall in graceful jabots.

REPORT SAYS KOREANS TORTURED

SEOUL, Korea, June 11.—Complaints that the police in Korea "sometimes go to such an extreme as to put the Koreans to torture" have reached the governor-general of Korea and Director Akaike, of the police bureau, has issued an order to the provincial governors to put a stop to it. The director announced that it was with great regret that he heard, now and then, a criticism that "even of late, policemen often fail to behave properly toward the people."

Referring to reports that the Koreans had been tortured, he told the governors that "it is said the people are apt to think the police and torture are inseparable, the idea of the one being inevitably associated with that of the other." He pointed out that even if torture were practised only in a few cases it naturally discredited the whole system of the police. He added: "As you know very well, in modern courts, judges rely on evidence rather than on the confession of offenders, and therefore torture has no place in our police system. I trust that in acting against any offenders you will do your best to collect evidence but never attempt to extort confession from them by the brutal means of torture."

Women Intensify Picketing

Attacks at Chicago—Ready for Any Emergency

The situation looks darker today than it ever has since we came to Chicago," Mrs. Abby Scott Baker declared. "We shall sharpen our attack from now on unless something is done. Our actions may lead to arrests but we are ready for any emergency for we are tired of waiting."

Michael Connors, who was arrested on Monday for drunkenness and who was implicated in the loss of the $19 check by Arthur Connolly on that day, was held today for the authorities of the state farm. Connors was on parole from that institution.

"Send me any place where they will take care of me," said Connors. "I've been here three days and all I've had to eat was three sandwiches and a cup of coffee. I can't stand it any longer. I'll either have to get out to get something to eat, or go some place where they will feed me, the house of correction, jail or any place."

After inquiry, the judge ordered the defendant back to his cell and instructed a court officer to see that he got a good, substantial breakfast. The parole man from the state institution is expected today.

George Donnelly, a vagrant, who applied to the station yesterday afternoon for board and room, saying that he had no place or work to go to, was ordered to the Chelmsford Street hospital for care.

LOWELL MINISTER SPEAKS

Grace Church Pastor Raps Interchurch World Movement at Haverhill Meeting

Haverhill, June 10.—Rev. Edward Downey, pastor of Grace church, Lowell, scored the Interchurch World Movement at a mass meeting of the Merrimack Valley Universalist association at the First Universalist church here yesterday before 150 delegates.

Rev. Mr. Downey dwelt upon the evils following the love of gold. Today he declared there is a movement to redirect the forces of Christianity by putting on a cross of gold as seen in the Interchurch World Movement to raise $300,000,000, which he characterized as a move to keep to the heel of gold.

He also said that the evils of the gold spirit are also shown in the attempt to nominate a man for president with a slush fund of $1,000,000. The other speakers were Rev. Frank H. Bellington of Waltham and Rev. John C. Lee of Gloucester.

THE SELLS-PIOTO CIRCUS LOWELL'S GREATEST ATTRACTION TODAY

Thousands Line Streets to See the Parade— Beautiful Horses Step Proudly to Swinging Lifts of Gorgeously Clad Bandsmen— Jungle Beasts Stalk Solemnly To and Fro —Parade Not Long, But Complete in Every Detail

The Sells-Floto circus, unique among such extravaganzas, inasmuch as it gains distinction through its modest claim of being only "the second largest circus in the world," came to Lowell today to give two performances on the old Fair grounds lot in Gorham street. After an uncertain dawn the day produced perfect circus weather, and thousands, actuated by the excitement of the day naturally causes, augmented by the joy of warm sun, lined the downtown streets during the forenoon to witness the parade which preceded the afternoon show.

Even as early as 9.30 o'clock, mothers with their children and a few belonging to neighbors, sought out vantage points along the route of march which covered Gorham, Thorndike, Dutton, Merrimack and Central streets, while automobiles and carriages parked in intersecting streets, and waited patiently for an hour or more to pass before the first sign of the parade appeared.

It was a good parade in a great many respects. Not as long as others within memory, it was nevertheless complete in the many features which habitually are part and parcel of such demonstrations. Unofficially 14 minutes elapsed during its passing a certain spot. There were gorgeously clad bandsmen, maintaining a shimmy-like tempo from the top of swaying tableau wagons; beasts of the tropics and jungles stalking restlessly to and fro within heavily-barred cages; a clown or two, more bands, two calliopes, all-glorious cars contributing to the circus symphony, four camels and seven elephants.

Then, of course, there were horses—splendid ones wearing gold and silver trappings—dappled ones and others milk white, all scrupulously clean and apparently exceptionally well fed. One or two wagons were drawn by ponies of the soft-heeling variety. They reached the hearts of the kiddies along the way, every one of whom would have given his or her last penny to secure even an equity in one of them.

One parade section was led by Uncle Sam and Columbia, with the latter astride a beautiful white horse, standing like a statue within an open wagon. The whole layout was colorful and complete as to detail and the thousands who came out to watch it pass had no regrets.

As the parade returned to the lot on the old Fair grounds crowds began to gather for the free attractions and the menageries, and to be ready when the big show doors were opened.

It is really "on the lot" that the circus carries its greatest appeal. These showmen who brought to the English-speaking race the realization of the superlative use of the adjective, yearly think up new-fangled ideas to add to the brilliance of their productions. This season the Sells-Floto people, following out the line of pageantry introduced into the circus world some time ago, open their show with a majestic spectacle under the title of "The Birth of the Rainbow." Usually King Solomon is kicking around somewhere with a few of his wives, but today's management has strayed away from Biblical lore and bases its opening feature upon the wonders of the heavens, the hues announcing the opening sound at 2.15 and 3.15 p. m.

Under the "big top" three rings hold the wonders of the program. Headlined and featured is the world renowned Hanneford riding family, with Foodles Hanneford in the foreground. This is flanked on all sides by scores of entertainers, daring beyond conception in their accomplishments and producing all the customary thrills and then some!

Early in the day the usual circus followers, with balloons, pin wheels and whip-whistles wandered about the streets. After the parade some of them gravitated toward the show grounds. As yet no one seems to have invented a balloon "baby" cannot burst within five minutes and although hundreds were sold only a handful withstood the rigors of the trip home.

Some time around midnight the three

PLUS EXPENSE OF SELLING

You no doubt know what effect this great campaign (started right here in Lowell) has had on clothing values in all our every city and town in the United States. You have seen clothing prices tumble as never before. All kinds of excuses are offered for the reduced prices—and here are yet a few more holding to the old high prices. But if we pull together a while longer we'll have them all in line.

The prices we've put on the goods for this month are based on the volume of our May business which shows a decrease of 50% over last year. And in order to hold to these low prices it is necessary for us to increase our June business the same proportion to meet the expenses. We are doing our part to hold the expense of selling down by taking small advertising space instead of buying one, two or three pages every week as some stores do and which costs the public a great deal more—but we need your co-operation to increase our volume of business. Just bear in mind that the more you concentrate your buying at this store the lower we can sell the goods.

These are the cost plus expense prices this week:

EXTENDS TIME TO SIGN BILL

Palmer Rules President Has Ten Days to Act After Adjournment

Rule May Change Status of Many Bills Killed by "Pocket Veto"

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Atty-Gen.
Palmer has made an informal ruling,
which has been communicated to Pres.
Wilson that the chief executive has 10 days after the adjournment of congress in which to sign bills and resolutions.

This rule may change the status of a number of bills which the president killed by a "pocket veto," explaining that he had not had sufficient time in which to consider them. These measures include the water power bill and the resolution repealing most of the special war time legislation.

Under the attorney general's ruling, the president would have until midnight, tomorrow, to sign the water power bill and until midnight,
June 17, to sign the other measures,
it was said at the White House.

SLIGHT CURTAILMENT IN LOCAL PLANTS

Despite the fact that most of the plants of the American Woolen company in this city and elsewhere are curtailing, the Beaver Brook mill in Collinsville, one of the plants of the company is still operating full time and with a full complement of help. One of the officials of the plant stated this morning that for the present there is no curtailment in the mill and that the employees will work until Saturday noon, but he could not foretell what will happen next week.

The Bay State Worsted company, another plant of the American Woolen company is operating three days a week in some departments and five days in others. The Wameet mill, which is also connected with the American Woolen company went on a schedule of three days a week this week, while the Ram's Head mill is being operated four days a week.

The Whitall Mfg. Co. in Rock street will close tonight for the remainder of the week, the curtailment, it is said, being due to the lack of orders. The Lyon Carpet Co. shut down half its plant yesterday until a week from next Monday because of freight congestion. The company has plenty of orders on hand but are short on certain materials.

The Tremont & Suffolk hosiery is shut down for another week. This manufacturing plant closed a week ago last Saturday and was scheduled to resume operations last Monday, but when the help reported for work they were informed they could have another week off, so that the plant will not reopen again until next Monday.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Former President

ing from the west and will stop over a few hours before leaving for New ences.

THE SPIRIT OF CIRCUS DAY

Invades the Judicial and Sacred Precincts of the Court House

Judge Adjourns Court to See Street Parade—No Exceptions Recorded

The spirit of circus day invaded the
quiet precincts of the Middlesex county court house this morning. As the jurors who had been excused for the
day were filing out of the civil courtroom, Judge Fosdick relaxed from his usual judicial dignity to inform the jurors that he hoped none of them
would "drink too much pink lemonade."
The jurors giggled, the assembled lawyers joined in a chorus of laughter, and
for once the grave court officers neglected to rap for "silence in the court room."

As the trial of a new case was about to be started, the judge further relaxed
to inform jurors, attorneys, plaintiffs
and defendant that, "If the circus parade goes past this building, this court
is going to adjourn to see it." To this
the attorneys interested in the case re-
exceptions to the court's ruling recorded."

A little later the blare of band music and the sound of the pealing of many children "It's coming" came through
the open windows of the court room.
Minus dignity the court recessed on
on the part of the big and little lights
of the world of law and others present
for favorable places from which to view
the spectacle of the parade.

League Plank "Acceptable to Everybody" Adopted and Split
Over Issue Is AvertedSummary of Root Plank
Which Averted G. O. P. Split

CHICAGO, June 10.—The Root plank was summarized by a member of the sub-committee as follows:

"The plank is a condemnation of the action of the president, both in his negotiation of the treaty of peace and the league and in his insistence upon its acceptance without change by the senate.

"It is a complete ratification of the action of the republican senators without distinguishing between either group. It pledges the country to a continuation of the policies of Washington, Madison and Monroe, and also to a fulfillment of all its international obligations by the establishment of international courts for the promulgation of rules of international law and conduct and suggests that further wars be made impossible by the establishment of laws and agreements whereby all international controversies may be settled by international agreements.

"The plank makes no mention of disarmament. The League of Nations is not specifically mentioned."

DEFEATED, JOHNSON

CHICAGO, June 10.—Senator Johnson declared today that in the contest over the platform section on the League of Nations, the "first assault of internationalism and international bankers on the republican party had been met and defeated."

It had been charged by the Johnson-Borah group that the Crane plank
"had its birth in Wall street."

Root Plank Upholds Senate
and Does Not Declare for Ratification of Treaty

CHICAGO, June 10.—A League of Nations plank drafted by Elihu
Root was accepted as a basis of compromise today by irreconcilable on the resolutions
sub-committee.

The plank which upholds the position of the senate and does not declare in specific terms for ratification of the treaty also was agreeable to Ogden Mills of New York,
a representative of the mild reservationists on the sub-committee and
the members generally declared the prospects of a complete agreement
were bright.

It was said there still was some possibility of a hitch and that the
danger of breaking open the treaty
question on the floor of the convention had not entirely passed.

All the members of the sub-committee, however, seemed satisfied
with the development and smilingly
asserted that the peril of a party
split was over.

The agreement was reached at a conference attended by Senator Lodge, republican senate leader, and afterward Senator Borah declared
that Senator Lodge had taken a stand opposed to ratification of the treaty and would so state to the
convention.

The members of the sub-committee
declined to give out the text of the
plank saying they wanted to take an hour or two to finally polish it up before giving it to the public.

The development came as a sensation
soon after the sub-committee had begun what seemed likely to be a long
and desperate struggle. It removed sub-committee members said, the obstacle which had been holding up the work of the convention and probably would permit final action by the convention on the platform at today's session.

The plank together with the remainder of the platform still had to be passed by the full resolutions committee,
but the leaders expressed every confidence that the work of the sub-committee would be approved virtually
without change.

Accepted first by the confidence of
leaders, the Root plank later was given unanimous approval by the 13 members
of the sub-committee.

While the plank accepted today was drafted originally by Mr. Root, it was said that some modifications had been made in the pre-convention conference
of the leaders and in the meeting this
morning. Mr. Root is in Europe.

Senator Lodge had no statement to make when he emerged from the conference.

JOHNSON CHARGES BRIBING DELEGATES

CHICAGO, June 10.—Senator Johnson gave notice yesterday that he would take measures of reprisal against any delegates pledged to his support by re-election of primary election who did not "stick."

Speaking to newspaper correspondents, he declared his opponents were using means of every kind to shake the allegiance of some of his supporters, mentioned "gold" and added that if any delegate broke away, "I'll take his case to his people."

Reiterating his opposition to the League of Nations, Senator Johnson said that unless the platform committee took a corresponding stand he would "ask the convention, and the people of the United States, to reject" its proposals.

"The convention is tightening up more and more," said Senator Johnson. "It will get to balloting day after tomorrow and as the time approaches my confidence increases."

"I think there'll be quite a number of ballots. We'll not endeavor to start with a tremendous number, but as the ballots are taken I think you'll observe later that we'll move along."

Johnson Talks With Crane

"I presume the platform decision will be made soon in the committee. My future course as to activities within the convention will be determined entirely by the decisions on the platform."

"I've been talking to delegates today about who can best do the job before us, which is that of eliminating the present administration from power. I'd like to submit the question to you or to anybody as to who can get the most votes. Conceding all candidates before the convention, have requisite qualifications for the presidency, there can be no reason for refusing a nomination to that individual except the old theory of striving for immediate success rather than ultimate victory."

Somebody suggested that ex-Senator Crane favored the league with reservations.

"I don't doubt that," the senator said, "and I'm endeavoring to get the republican party to take a republican attitude, an American attitude, and we'll ask the party to take that position."

The senator said he had seen Mr. Crane three times yesterday, "but had no opportunity to talk with him at length."

Looks for Obedience to Primary

Reports that the convention planned to nominate a candidate before adopting a platform were mentioned.

"I think the usual method will be pursued," Senator Johnson replied. He did not think it likely, he added, that the convention would attempt to limit debate on the League of Nations if debate became necessary.

"Any man who betrays his people or betrays me," he said in breaking a volley of questions and referring to primary delegates, "whether for gold or any other reason, I'll take his case to his people and I'd like to make that plain. I don't believe there will be any such betrayal. I look for full obedience to the people's mandates, though efforts of every kind and every character, and I say that advisedly with all means, are being used to move them. I think those efforts will be futile."

After remarking that he had been having a "delightful time" with Nebraska, Oklahoma and Michigan delegations who called upon him or upon whom he called, the senator reverted to the League of Nations.

"I've been telling you very frankly and very fully every day my opinions on the League of Nations," the senator said. "What do you hear from my opponents about it, what do they tell you, where do they stand?"

He waited a moment.

"Echo answers—where," he observed.

"That's all."

WANT 60,000 MEN

Chance for Students, If Industrious and Husky

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 10.—College students must be industrious and husky to find employment in the harvesting of grain in the middle west this season. They need not expect a vacation with pay, say the employment agents, who want 60,000 men for work in Kansas and Oklahoma alone.

A. L. Barkman, zone clearance officer in charge of the whole belt, emphasizes the fact that workers must pay their own railroad fare, and should if possible be provided with a small surplus in cash of delay in finding work due to rains. He also emphasizes the fact that able-bodied men are wanted, that the sun is hot, and that prospective workers should be sure of their endurance if they are to be of value either to themselves or to the farmers.

Wheat cutting in Oklahoma is beginning; it will begin in southern Kansas about June 20; in Nebraska July 12; in South Dakota July 26; and in North Dakota the first week in August.

Oklahoma, it is estimated, will need about 10,000 men from outside the

PAINS NEARLY DOUBLED ME UP

Nothing Helped Me Until I Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wyandotte, Mich.—"For the last four years I have doctored off and on with out help. I have had pains every month so bad that I would nearly double up. Sometimes I could not sweep a room without stopping to rest, and everything I ate upset my stomach. Three years ago I lost a child and suffered so badly that I was out of my head at times. My bowels did not move for days and I could not eat without suffering. The doctor could not help me and one day I told my husband that I could not stand the pain any longer and sent him to the drug-store to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and threw the doctor's medicine away. After taking three bottles of Vegetable Compound and using two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash I could do my own housework. If it had not been for your medicine I don't know where I would be today and I am never without a bottle of it in the house. You may publish this if you like that it may help some other woman."—Mrs. M. A. STEWART, 120 Orange St., Wyandotte, Mich.

state, and wages from harvest hands will range from $4 to $7 a day in that state, with wages for stackers $6 to $10 a day, and for experienced engineers and separator men $8 to $10 a day.

In only a few isolated communities, where labor is abundant, is any one offering less than $4 a day for any sort of labor, it is added. In most sections only able-bodied, English-speaking white are desired. Oklahoma offices of the free employment service have been established in Oklahoma City, Enid, Tulsa, Muskogee and Ardmore. There will be no free or reduced railroad fares.

In Kansas it is estimated there will be nearly 8,000,000 acres of wheat to harvest, and the state employment director has declared that during the height of the season employment can be furnished to 50,000 men from outside the state. Hutchinson and Wichita will be the principal clearance and distributing points for Kansas harvest labor, and there are branches of the federal state employment service in both places, as well as in Kansas City, Kan., Salina, Parsons and Topeka.

Seventy cents an hour is the maximum harvest wage in Kansas, with no minimum fixed. This includes board and lodging. It is estimated that, starting in southern Kansas about June 20 the cutting will reach the northern border of the state July 1 to 5.

In Nebraska it is expected that about 2,000,000 acres of wheat will be harvested. A large amount of outside help is necessary. There will be two or three weeks' work in Nebraska following the Kansas harvest.

The federal employment bulletin states that, beginning July 20 to 25 in South Dakota, the harvest will move northward, requiring many men from outside the state.

MISS MacBRAYNE HAS RESIGNED

Miss Daisy B. MacBrayne of this city has resigned as general secretary of the Lawrence Young Women's Christian Association, and will take a much needed rest of several months.

The Lawrence Telegram reporting her resignation says: Miss MacBrayne has spent two very strenuous years at the "Y" and has done much towards its wonderful growth and development. She has given untiringly of her strength, time and ability. Her cheerful disposition and ever-ready smile has won the love and respect of both the old and the young, willing at all times to cheer and advise.

Under her guidance many changes have been made. The dining room, which she found did not exactly meet the needs of the women, was changed to a cafeteria system where one could find a greater variety. Many women from the mills and stores frequent the place at the noon hour and have been delighted with the change.

The membership has gained more than 100 per cent during the last two years. Many new and successful classes have been conducted during the past winter and spring.

NOT HIS WIFE BUT TWIN SISTER OF WOMAN HE MARRIED OVERSEAS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 10.—His English bride, 18 years old, told him she was not his wife at all, but was the twin sister of the woman he married while with the American Expeditionary Forces abroad, Arthur J. Eller set forth in a suit for divorce he filed here recently.

Eller's complaint stated that he married in Liverpool Nellie Lenahan, a hospital worker whom he met in France. He returned to the United States with his contingent and his supposed bride followed. Soon after joining him here, she alleged, she told him her twin sister was his real wife, and left for New Orleans.

MISS CONWAY SHOWERED

Boston road was the scene of much gaiety, when a large party of friends gathered at the home of Miss Julia Furey last evening to shower many beautiful gifts upon Miss Alice Conway. The bride-to-be, who will soon become Mrs. Nelson Depocher, is a most estimable young lady of the Sacred Heart parish, and that her friends are legion was evidenced by the many costly gifts which she received. Although taken by surprise, Miss Conway responded in a most gracious manner to the many toasts, and expressed her appreciation of the honor bestowed upon her.

During the evening a mock marriage was performed, which was the cause of much hilarity; the contracting parties being Miss Teresa O'Hara, the blushing bride, who looked the part with her beautiful gown, veil and shower bouquet; the groom was Miss Mary Qualey; Miss Alice O'Brien, the bridesmaid, and Miss Tess Mulligan the best man, the knot being tied by Miss Elizabeth Furey, and the happy couple marched away to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding march, which was played by Miss Eva Boyle. The bride was given away by her lifelong friend, Miss Della Dolan. There were many musical numbers, including solos by the following talented young ladies: Misses Annabel Conway, Mary Early, Mary Qualey, Tess Mulligan, Augusta Barr and Josephine Dillon. Miss Susie Nelson and Miss Mary Gallagher gave an exhibition dance, entitled "Fortune," for which they were loudly applauded. Miss Katherine Dolan and Miss Lillian Landry aided materially in helping those in the party to reach the height of their ambition, with their little skit, entitled "A Rise in Life," and they are past masters in the art. The parlor and living room were bowered of beauty, being tastefully decorated with roses, ferns and bridal wreaths. Refreshments were served in the dining room, which was also decorated in a way most pleasing, with kewpies, roses, ferns and bridal wreaths—the color scheme being pink and white throughout. The happy party left Miss Furey's home about midnight, serenading the bride-to-be to her home, and showering her with confetti and all good wishes for a bright and happy future. Those responsible for the affair were Miss Julia Furey and Miss Ella Mulligan.

They end corns now in this scientific way

People who know—millions of them—now end all corns in this way.

They apply Blue-jay, either in liquid or in plaster form. It means but a touch and takes but a jiffy.

The corn pain stops. Then the Blue-jay gently undermines the corn so it loosens and comes out.

The modern way

Blue-jay was invented by a chemist who studied corns.

It is made by a laboratory of world-wide repute.

Old-time treatments were harsh and inefficient. Blue-jay is gentle, quick and sure.

Now all corns are needless. All these pains can be avoided. To let corns remain while you pare and pad them is folly.

You can stop a corn ache the moment it appears. You can end a corn completely before it can develop.

Blue-jay has proved these facts to millions. It will prove them to you—and tonight—if you let it.

Quit the old methods of dealing with corns and see what this new way means. Your druggist sells Blue-jay.

"Blue Monday" gone—after 4000 years!

Today for the first time in 4000 years, women need not fear washday.

A wonderful new way of washing—just soaking and rinsing—is replacing all the exhausting methods used for centuries

1. Egyptian women—4000 years ago—held their clothes in the running water of the Nile and stamped on them with their feet! Beat them with clay! Pounded them with sticks and stones! Anything to get them clean!

2. Later, women took to using crude washboards. They knelt on platforms that jutted out from the shore, and slapped and pounded their clothes against a wooden board with rough grooves in it. Your own washboard may be smoother, but it's the same rub-rub.

3. Finally, one desperate little housewife made the first soap out of lye and kitchen grease. This crude kind of soap did hasten the washing some—but it ate terrible holes in the clothes!

4. And here we are, down in the 20th century, with lots of women still using the same old "elbow-grease" methods. With a cake of soap and a washing-board, rubbing away, just as your great-great-great-grandmother did! Rubbing the clothes clean by sheer force!

YOUR boiler and washboard way of washing is really just the old river and rock method brought inside the house—only the water is hot instead of cold.

Washing today, by rubbing and boiling clothes, is practically as much drudgery as the crude method of washing used by Egyptian women on the Nile, 4000 years ago. One day out of seven, you go through that exhausting, endless rubbing and scrubbing to get clothes clean.

But all that comes to an end right now! You can store the old-fashioned boiler and washboard in the farthest corner of the attic and forget them from now on.

Rinso is the wonderful new soap in granules—for all plain washing. It is as wonderful for the family washing as Lux is for delicate things. The Rinso granules, dissolved first in a little water, stir up into a soapy, bubbly tubful. You soak the clothes overnight, or for three hours in the morning. Then you rinse. That's all you do!

Rinso is so pure and so high in actual soap value that it "jells." That is why it loosens the dirt without hard rubbing or boiling. Your clothes are as safe in the pure Rinso suds as in plain water.

Only very soiled parts, cuffs, bands and the like, may need a little light rubbing between the hands. You need never boil, unless you wish to do so occasionally—to sterilize them.

All through by nine in the morning

You save all those weary hours of rubbing over the washboard. You save the time and fuss of boiling the clothes every washday.

A few rinsings—a slight rubbing of bad spots between the hands—and your clothes are all ready for the line as early as nine in the morning. Snowy-white, exquisitely clean—just by soaking and rinsing!

Yet there is nothing in Rinso to injure fabrics—nothing to destroy colors. In fact, the Rinso granules are made of finer quality ingredients than were ever used before for the family washing.

Pick out the things that used to make washday the hardest—the men's shirts, the children's rompers, your aprons, the hand towels that get so terribly grimy. Just soak them overnight in the pure Rinso suds, and in the morning you can actually just rinse the dirt out.

At first glance, the fine granules of Rinso look to you much like the ordinary washing powder. But make this test. Use a heaping teaspoonful each of Rinso and of ordinary washing powder to a glass of boiling water. After a few hours, this is what happens—

"WASHING POWDER"
—high in harsh chemicals
—low in soap
it pours out

RINSO
—absolutely harmless
—rich in soap
it "jells"

You can see from this test why Rinso gets your clothes clean just by soaking. It is so rich in soap—so high in cleansing value that it simply loosens and dissolves all the dirt in the fabric. It is so cleansing in itself that you do not need cake soap or washing powder at all. And it saves your clothes from constant rubbing over the hard metal washboard—from strong washing powders that "eat" the fabric. Soaking overnight in the pure Rinso suds is so much easier on your clothes that they actually last twice as long!

Wash your clothes the modern way the very next time. One package of Rinso will have the laundry for the whole family fresh and clean and on the line by 9 o'clock.

Get Rinso today from your grocer and just follow the easy directions on the back of the package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Well Known Vocalist Passed Away Last Evening After
Long Illness

John J. Dalton, one of the city's best known and most respected residents, died late yesterday afternoon at his home, 275 Summer street, after an extended illness. He was 39 years old.

Although he had been confined to his home for several months, his friends and relatives had looked forward to his complete recovery until recently, when he took a turn for the worse and gradually became weaker. Only those intimately associated with him were aware of the seriousness of his illness and to the general public the news of his death will bring sudden grief.

He enjoyed the acquaintance and respect of a wide circle of friends, all of whom will mourn his passing with genuine sorrow. For many years Mr. Dalton had been prominent in local musical circles, being a soloist of the Immaculate Conception church choir and an active participant in amateur theatricals to which he was always ready and willing to give valuable time. His appearance was always the signal for spontaneous applause at such affairs and few singers have been able to maintain their hold on the public so consistently as he. His ability in this respect, combined with a most affable and generous nature, readily won him innumerable friends.

In recent years he had conducted a taxicab service in Appleton street and here again his wide popularity and faithful application to business brought him almost immediate success. He maintained an active interest in this enterprise until stricken with illness last winter. Following medical treatment he was able to return to his business but only for a brief time. He was advised by his physician to remain at home until his health became fully restored and medical treatment soon brought encouraging results. Eventually, however, there came a decline which resulted in death late yesterday.

Mr. Dalton is survived by his wife, Mrs. Agnes Madigan Dalton; one sister, Miss Mary J. Dalton; two brothers, Francis M. and William E. Dalton, and an aunt, Mrs. Margaret A. McDonough.

WERE TOO FOND FOR CAKES AND COOKIES

When word of a break was telephoned to police headquarters about 10:30 last night Sergt. Bigelow and Officers Robert Crowley, James Whitworth and James Maloney were instructed to go to the scene, the bakery of Hart and Co., 500 Merrimack street. On their arrival they arrested George Petrakos, of Market street and Joseph Koswicz, of Austin street, minors, who had entered the bakery and had made a feast on some of the cakes and cookies. At the station they were booked for breaking and entering and larceny in the night time and will be held for trial before the court.

LIGGETT, BETS $10,000 AGAINST WOOD

CHICAGO, June 10.—Very little money will change hands here over the outcome of the presidential contest unless the chances of the various candidates can be better sounded after the nomination speeches have been made. The average delegate or spectator who is inclined to take a sporting chance demands odds to which even the reckless gambler will not consent.

One wager was recorded last night, when Capt. R. J. Foster, a Wood booster from Newark, N. J., bet $10,000 even money that Gen. Wood will be the nominee. L. K. Liggett of Boston was the taker.

Alkali In Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

The woman who has found the secret of youth has found the secret of beauty. Your figure tells your age.

Various things contribute to the appearance of age, but nothing accentuates it half so much as a badly corseted figure. This simple statement of this truth needs no emphasis; the figure tells a story that is apparent to all.

Your corset then should become your first consideration.

If you desire a corset that will fit you perfectly—give you utmost freedom—unhindered grace and correct style, we urge you to have a trial fitting of the MODART CORSET.

A. F. OF L. CONVENTION

More Resolutions Introduced
at Session in Montreal
Today

MONTREAL, June 10.—Repeat of the transportation act of 1920, legislation providing for government ownership and democratic operation of the railroad systems and necessary inland waterways are urged in a joint resolution presented by seven international unions to the American Federation of Labor in annual convention here today.

The proposal now in committee, declares ownership is necessary to provide more adequate and cheaper transportation and to eliminate the "sinister influence of railroad corporations from our national life."

Military training in the schools and the establishment of compulsory military service or training is condemned as "unnecessary, undesirable and un-American" in a resolution proposed by the American Federation of Teachers. Resolutions presented by the railway mail association ask the executive council to aid in obtaining the abolishment of present unreasonable speed tests, time measuring devices and standards of personal efficiency in the postal service. They also demand establishment of an eight hour day with time and a half for overtime.

Seven international unions signed a resolution demanding repeal of the espionage act.

The policemen's union of Oklahoma City asked the federation to organize all policemen's unions in the United States and Canada into an international union.

The first committee reports on the 110 resolutions now before the convention were made when today's session opened.

MOTORISTS HERE

About 50 of the 150 new road signs being placed on roads within a 30-mile radius of Lowell by the committee on advertising of the local chamber of commerce, already are in place and will aid materially in steering motorists Lowell-ward.

Roads already covered include those in the vicinity of Framingham and Marlboro; Stoneham on the route to Reading; Arlington road via Burlington and the Arlington road by way of Woburn parkway. The sign placers were at work today in the vicinity of Bedford and Concord.

It is the wish of Paul Chalfoux, committee chairman, to completely cover all highways between Lowell and Boston before any work is done to the north, but it is believed that within a week or two all the main roads within the 30-mile radius to the north, east, south and west will be covered.

The signs being used are on substantial boards, painted yellow with black lettering, arrows pointing the way and the mileage.

Hairs Will Vanish
After This Treatment

(Toilet Helps)
You can keep your skin free from hair or fuzz by the occasional use of plain delatone and in using it you need have no fear of marring or injuring the skin. A thick paste is made by mixing some of the powdered delatone with water. Then spread on the hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and all traces of hair have vanished. Be careful, however, to get real delatone.—Adv.

MATRIMONIAL

The best man was Mr. Thomas B. Higgins, while the bridesmaid was Miss Helen Irene Stafford, a sister of the bride. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. John W. Sharkey, 8 Carter street. After an extended honeymoon trip through Canada and New York the couple will make their home in this city.

Young-Goucher

Mr. Norman Young of Augusta, Me., and Miss May MacCumber Goucher of Forge Village were married Tuesday at the home of the bride, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Earle Kernahan of West Roxbury. The bridesmaid was a sister of the groom, Miss Rachael Young, while the best man was Mr. William Goucher, a brother of the bride. The couple will make their home in Littleton.

Crites-Platte

Mr. Cecil Crites of Pasadena, Cal., and

Miss Grace Platte of this city were married May 30 at Pasadena. The couple are now spending their honeymoon along the Pacific coast and after July 1 they will be at home to their friends at 128 Chestnut street, Pasadena.

Yarnal-Dimodana

A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon when Mr. Dean B. Yarnal of Toledo, O., and Miss Grace Dimodana of this city were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed at 5 o'clock at St. Peter's rectory by Rev. D. J. Heffernan. The bride was attired in white georgette

over white satin with picture hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Eva Mercier, who wore pink crepe de chine with hat to match and carried sweet peas. The best man was Mr. John Bousheller. At the close of the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Dimodana, 271 Thorndike street. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a pair of kid gloves, while the groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. Mr.

and Mrs. Yarnal left in the evening on a two weeks' honeymoon trip to Providence, R. I., and New York and upon their return they will make their home at 271 Thorndike street.

When kerosene oil spilled from the spout of a can a man was carrying out of the grocery store of Howard K. Tooley, at Columbus, Ind., the man took a potato from a basket and was about to stick it on the spout, but Mr. Tooley took it away and gave him a gumdrop instead. "See here," said he, "potatoes at 12½ cents a pound cost too much for stoppers."

FOR VOTE ON VOLSTEAD ACT

Governor Edwards Would
Enforcement

Says No Power Above People—Declares Prohibition
Will be Campaign Issue

SEA GIRT, N. J., June 10.—Governor Edward I. Edwards, a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, issued a statement here last night demanding liberalization of the Volstead act and calling upon "the people of the United States, lawfully and by the constitutional method prescribed, to pass judgment upon the act."

"This act has declared the 13th amendment to be a part of the constitution and the Volstead act to be its statutory interpretation," read the statement. "That act is open to such amendment as the duly elected representatives of the people may enact."

The People Rule

"No power exists which is paramount to the power of the people expressed at the polls. There alone is sovereignty. Every candidate for congress, every state and legislative officer, and the candidates for the presidency itself, will be called upon this coming November to declare their positions unmistakably on the same and reasonable interpretation of the constitutional amendment in favor of the permissive use of light wines and beers, each state to determine its regulations under the liberal limitations of a general federal statute.

"I appeal to the great and final referendum of the American people," Gov. Edwards denounced the Volstead act on these eight grounds:

The Eight Points

"1.—It attempts to regulate the habits of millions of our citizens, in my judgment, of the vast majority of them.

"2.—It places in the class of criminals and law-breakers millions of women all over the country who make light wines from home-grown fruits for their own domestic use, as did their mothers before them. It places in the criminal class millions of farmers who make and mature cider from their own orchards.

"3.—It places a ban upon those millions of our population to whom, for untold generations, light wines and beers have been as much a part of their daily food as the bread upon their tables.

"4.—It has already stimulated by this prohibition of simple and harmless beverages the illicit distillation of harmful liquors to 20-fold their former production. The very agents of enforcement, both state and federal, have become either blackmailers of the law-breakers or their partners in crime. A national scandal and disgrace are upon us. A force of one million men and the annual expenditure of two billions of dollars could not secure the adequate enforcement of this unwise and vicious legislation.

"5.—It menaces our whole industrial fabric and millions of workers are filled with resentment at this invasion of their personal liberties.

"6.—It is the main impelling cause, as shown by investigations of the federal department of labor why 2,000,000 men of foreign birth plan to return to their native lands. The department of state is refusing their applications for passports, while the department of justice is making mass arrests and threatening deportation among the very same class whose mental condition thereby borders upon panic and renders them the prey of every 'red' agitator.

"7.—It falls between the two stools of state and federal authority. No law providing for concurrent jurisdiction of federal and state administration can successfully be enforced. Conflict of authority, jealousy and failure are inevitable.

RARE BIRDS

SWEET SIXTEEN AND NEVER BEEN KISSED!! BETTY F.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Dr. Druggist, has been appointed agent for Allen in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.—Adv.

SHOE PRICES TO DROP

The Bottom Has Fallen Out
of the Hide and Wool
Markets

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 10.—Hide dealers declare the bottom has fallen out of the hide and wool markets and are predicting $2.50 shoes within the near future.

Green called hides which were selling for 18 cents a pound recently dropped to 12. N. B. LaBryer, manager of a hide company here, says the price will go lower, adding that the same condition exists in all the markets of the country. Calf hides, which six months ago brought a dollar a pound, have been offered lately at 35 cents.

Mr. LaBryer continued, and then can get no buyer. The decline in prices is due to the inability of tanners to ship their goods because of railway congestion and because of the fear of a credit stringency. Mr. LaBryer declared. Big stocks of high priced leather purchased several months ago are still on hand and they want to get rid of it before buying more. Mr. LaBryer also asserted that many tanneries have closed down entirely and others running half time.

The wool market shows an even worse state of demoralization, according to Mr. LaBryer. Wool which a year ago ranged from 50 to 55 cents a pound now is virtually impossible to get 25 cents for, he states. The demand for wool is so slight, he said, that no dealers are making purchases except where they get an opportunity to buy at such low prices that they are willing to take a chance.

The recent attempt of the Wool Growers' association to hold a wool sale at Enid, which was called off because there were no buyers, was cited by Mr. LaBryer as an illustration of the present day wool market situation. A single buyer offered 20 cents for the best grade of Shropshire wool if he could get a carload lot.

LOS ANGELES LARGEST CITY ON WEST COAST

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Los Angeles has outstripped San Francisco and become the largest city west of St. Louis during the last 10 years, the census bureau announcement of the populations of the two cities last night shows. It has also outgrown Buffalo, tenth largest in the country in 1910, as well as Milwaukee, Washington, Newark, Cincinnati and New Orleans. Los Angeles has now a population of 575,460, an increase of 256,282 while San Francisco has 505,119 inhabitants. Los Angeles' rate of growth was 59.3 per cent, compared with San Francisco's rate of 19.5 per cent, during the 10 years.

Announcement last night of the populations of San Francisco and Los Angeles, the two largest cities of the western half of the country, left only five of the 20 largest cities of the United States to be heard from in the 1920 census. These five are Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit and Kansas City, Mo., and until their populations are made public, the ranking of the country's 20 largest cities will remain somewhat doubtful.

San Francisco ranked as the 11th most populous city in 1910 with 415,312 inhabitants, having shown an increase of 74,159 or 21.6 per cent, during the decade. Los Angeles ranked 17th in 1910 with a population of 319,125, an increase of 215,731 or 211.5 per cent.

San Francisco ranked just under Buffalo in 1910 with 42,000 less people. Buffalo's 1910 population is 505,575. Milwaukee ranked just below San Francisco with 55,000 people less, and now has a population of 457,147.

Los Angeles ranked next below Washington, D. C., in 1910 with about 12,000 less people, and just above Minneapolis with about 15,000 more. Washington's 1910 population is 427,571 and Minneapolis has 350,425.

The following census figures were announced last night: San Francisco, 505,119; Los Angeles, 575,460; Pasadena, Cal., 45,334; Fresno, Cal., 44,616; Stockton, Cal., 40,134.

It was planned to arrange for an all-day outing at the home of Mrs. Callahan, on Rogers street, Tewksbury, Wednesday, June 15. For this the Boston car will leave Merrimack square at 9:45 a. m. It was also voted for the society to furnish the Epworth league banquet on June 23. A general good time followed the business meeting.

The secret of this remarkable skin softness is this: It keeps the pores, instead of closing them as the cheap soaps do, and thereby prevents the skin from drying and chapping. It does not destroy any complexion. It does not clog the pores. It keeps the skin soft and healthy. It is a wonderful skin softener, and is absolutely pleasant to use. Ask your dealer.

FRITZ KREISLER SAILS

Goes With $20,000 Worth of "Food Draft" Orders on Relief Warehouse at Vienna

NEW YORK, June 10.—Fritz Kreisler, violinist, sailed today on the steamer Rotterdam for Vienna with more than $20,000 worth of "food draft" orders on the Hoover relief food warehouses in Vienna. He will take personal charge of the distribution of food to the needy of Austria-Hungary, who belong to the intellectual classes. Thousands of professors, doctors, musicians, writers and persons of other professions are said to be in dire distress because their earnings have not kept pace with the advanced cost of living and because, according to Mr. Kreisler, they are too proud to make known their plight.

N. E. CROP REPORT

Shortage of Farm Machinery and Fertilizer

WAKEFIELD, June 10.—Small receipts of fertilizer and farm machinery has tended to limit acreage of nearly all crops, according to the New England crop report today of V. A. Saunders, field agent of the bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture. Favorable weather during the last part of May, encouraged planting, however, and caused greater hopefulness for fair-sized crops.

The potato acreage will be materially reduced, the report says, due to high prices for seed and lack of fertilizer and labor. The apple blossom was fair to good. Peaches are reported a failure in New Hampshire, and indications are for an 8 per cent crop in Massachusetts and 25 per cent in Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Connecticut valley onions show an acreage on a par with last year. Home garden crops, although 10 days late, are growing well on an acreage comparable to the big plantings of the past three years. Hay promises an excellent crop in New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, but is disappointing in Maine and Connecticut. Clover acreage is somewhat less but good growth is reported throughout the region.

PRINCESS ROSPIGLIOSI, DAUGHTER OF AMERICAN WOMAN.

DIES IN PARIS

PARIS, June 10.—Princess Francesca Rospiigliosi, daughter of Princess Joseph Rospiigliosi, formerly Miss Mary Jennings Reid of New Orleans and Washington, died at the family's country home near this city yesterday from complications arising from chronic malaria. Her condition was adversely affected, according to the Paris edition of the New York Herald, by the death of Alfredo Alligretti, a former Italian army aviator, 13 days ago, suicide being suspected in his case.

Princess Francesca Rospiigliosi was born Aug. 2, 1902. Her mother was formerly married to F. H. Parkhurst of Bangor, Me., but following her divorce was married civilly to Prince Rospiigliosi in 1901. Efforts were made to have the Vatican authorize a religious marriage in addition to the civil ceremony, but they failed until 1913. The prince died on Sept. 22, that year, and it was announced that a few hours before his death a religious ceremony of marriage had been performed by a Catholic priest. Besides Princess Francesca, one other child, Prince Joseph, was born to the couple.

Health came back with RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women.

MRS. ALFRED JUNEAU

Being the mother of a large family, besides having been the victim of three premature illnesses, I was in such a weakened condition that I really thought I was going to die. One day someone hinted that I should give RED PILLS, a trial; I immediately started taking them, and continued doing so for about eight months. I gradually noticed that I was getting stronger, and so kept up the treatment for a year, with the result that I was completely recovered. Since that time, I have given birth to several children, who are all healthy and fine, thanks to my improved state of health after taking RED PILLS.

MRS. ALFRED JUNEAU,
5 North Mohawk,
Cohoes, N.Y.

RED PILLS are for women only. They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "Fraser American Chemical Company Limited" is on every box.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS

On June 25 memorial resolutions on the death of Hon. Samuel P. Hadley will be presented to the local police court. Judge Enright will preside over the meeting of local lawyers and judges who will be present. Tributes and eulogies will be made by the following: Judge John J. Pickman, Judge Frederic A. Fisher, Fred N. Wier, John J. Hogan, Alfred P. Sawyer, James J. Kerwin, D. J. Murphy, Joseph H. Guillet, Daniel J. Donahue, William A. Wilson, Francis M. Qua, James P. Savage, Charles S. Liller, John J. Harvey and Edward W. Trull.

AMERICAN WINS MATCH

MURFIELD, Scotland, June 10.—Robert A. Gardner of Chicago, twice holder of the United States golf championship advanced into the semi-finals for the British amateur golf championship by winning his match in the sixth round of that contest today. Gardner defeated Gordon Lockhart of Prestwick two up. Gardner is the only American survivor in the tournament.

Former Exalted Ruler of Lowell Lodge of Elks Dies in Minneapolis

Word has been received in this city of the death of Rollin W. Stickney, better known as Ralph Stickney, former exalted ruler of the local lodge of Elks, in Minneapolis, Minn., on Tuesday, aged about 60 years.

Later he was engaged in the liquor business in Market street opposite the Waverly hotel. Ten years ago he went to Oregon and from there to Minneapolis. He has been ill for some time and failed to recover from a recent operation. He is well known in this city, especially among members of the Elks. He was a brother of a former governor of Vermont.

JOHN O'DEA HAD VERY CLOSE CALL

While engaged in rounding up alleged moonshiners, Federal Prohibition Enforcement Officer John O'Dea of Lowell had a narrow escape from death in an automobile accident near Tonawanda, N. Y., last Saturday night.

Officer O'Dea and a chauffeur, Paul Morkowicz of North Tonawanda, N. Y., were returning from the scene of a liquor raid at an Indian reservation at Pekin, N. Y., when another auto appeared in the road ahead of them coming from the opposite direction. To avoid a collision the driver of the O'Dea car swerved his machine to the side of the road. As he did so the car skidded and turned turtle.

Both Officer O'Dea and his companion were thrown out and seriously hurt. They were taken to a nearby hospital, but after an observation period of 48 hours it was announced that he had suffered no internal injuries. He was later told to return to his home for a period of rest. The chauffeur of the car received a fractured skull.

In the raid at the Indian reservation two stills and a large quantity of liquor were seized and three men were placed under arrest.

THIRD PARTY IN THE FIELD

San Correspondent Says Voters Will Have Third Party Candidate

Committee of Forty, Labor Party and Farmers' Alliance Will Attend To It

Hall Has Already Been Engaged for the Third Party Convention

Special to The Sun
CHICAGO, June 10.—What chance is there of a third party candidate? Does Hiram Johnson's promise not to remove the danger of such a complication? What about the Forty-Eighters, the labor party and the Farmers Non-partisan league? Will Bob La Follette stand hitched? These are questions now being asked, in low tones and in sequestered corners, by the republican bosses. Of course the bosses are not saying anything openly except that everything is all fine and that their particular candidate will be nominated on the third or fourth ballot. But, underneath there is far from a cheery or confident feeling.

THE WONDERFUL FRUIT MEDICINE

Every Home In This State Needs "Fruit-a-tives"

To those suffering with Indigestion, Torpid Liver, Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headaches, Neuralgia, Kidney Trouble, Rheumatism, Pain in the Back, Eczema and other Skin Affections, 'Fruit-a-tives' gives prompt relief and assures a speedy recovery when the treatment is faithfully followed.

'Fruit-a-tives' is the only medicine made from fruit—containing the medicinal principles of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, combined with valuable tonics and antiseptics.

didate will be nominated on the third or fourth ballot. But, underneath there is far from a cheery or confident feeling.

No Real G. O. P. Harmony

For eight years the republican party has been kept out of the presidency by a lack of harmony in its own ranks. The progressive and reactionary wings have not flapped together. Here and now the progressive element is manifesting itself through Hiram Johnson.

while the extreme of reaction is personified by the money-promoted candidates of Wood and Lowden.

The progressive defection killed Taft's chances in 1912. The same disaffection—although the party had been dissolved and Roosevelt had become regular—killed Hughes' chances in 1916. If the "old guard" now turn down Hiram Johnson—as they very likely will—and name some Lowden as a candidate, will there be a bolt of the republican voters?

This question, written on the background of the 1912 and 1916 political history, is beginning to loom like the biblical writing on the wall, and the prophets of Israel have been called in to read the writing.

The answer is at hand.

There'll Be Third Party

The voters will have a third party candidate. The committee of forty-eight is attending to that. So is the labor party and the Farmers Non-partisan alliance.

The hall has been engaged—the auditorium in this city—and the call has been issued for the third party convention to meet July 11, 12 and 13. The dates are the same for the labor party convention, which will also be held in Chicago. And, by a singular coincidence, the farmers of the northwest are planning a sort of political rally at the same time in the same city.

Some candidate agreeable to all three groups will be named. If the candidate is named by the labor convention the forty-eighters will endorse, or vice versa.

La Follette to Lead

The name most frequently mentioned in connection with this nomination is Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin. There has been talk also of Frank Walsh, formerly of the war labor board and the industrial relations commission. Also the name of Gov. Lynn Frazier of North Dakota is sure to figure. The ticket might be La Follette and Frazier, or La Follette and Walsh, or Walsh and Frazier, or Frazier and Walsh.

It is significant that La Follette ran a set of delegates in the Wisconsin primaries on a platform which is almost identical with the tentative platform put out by the forty-eighters at

USING UP VITALITY

The struggle for success 'uses up' vitality in America at a greater rate than any other thing. Fighting to keep away from the poor-house we shorten the distance to the grave.

Especially in middle age, at forty or thereabouts, do we become impressed with the necessity of laying up a competence and with that feeling in time comes worry, nervous breakdown, neurasthenia. The entire system feels the result of the nervous strain. The digestion resents things that it accepted before, the heart palpitates on slight exertion, the muscles of the back ache after a day's work. Your blood is thinner and not so bright a red.

When these things occur, whether you are fourteen or forty you need a tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills suit most peoples' need because they are non-alcoholic and they really build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. They are useful for growing children and for men and women whose nervous energy has been overtaxed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents a box by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System."—Adv.

St. Louis. This platform declared the restoration of civil liberties, against the League of Nations in its proposed form, against injunctions in labor cases, against profiteering, in favor of government ownership of railroads and other public utilities, and for placing the burden of taxation on war profits.

On this platform the La Follette delegates won by a two-to-one vote.

Out of Harmony

The Wisconsin delegation to the Chicago convention does not this year present La Follette as a candidate, but the delegation is instructed to support a "platform for the republican party embracing these principles and a candidate for president whose public record is a guarantee that he is in full accord therewith."

La Follette never has bolted the republican party. It is entirely out of accord with what represents the party now here in Chicago, and his Wisconsin delegation will be like a voice in the wilderness. If La Follette is nominated by the independents and laborites who will meet here next month his name will go on the ballot not as a republican, but by petition as some kind of an independent under some name to be selected when the convention meets.

MORE DETAILS ON THE FLIGHT OF CARRANZA

MEXICO CITY—Wild confusion attended the evacuation of the Mexican capital by President Carranza and his following.

Rolling stock had been gathered at the Mexican railway terminal in preparation for their departure. When word was passed down through the various government departments that the exodus was about to begin, thousands of government employees, trading civilians who had been strong supporters of the Carranza regime, partisan journalists and others headed for the trains on foot and every kind of vehicle obtainable.

Throughout the night before the trains left, a constant stream of coaches and automobiles deposited government officials, politicians and other government hangers-on at the railway station amid a babel of cries and exclamations to porters and expressmen.

Next morning they came in increased number.

Loaded down with bulging bundles, suit cases, bags, hampered by dogs crying children and confused servants, the procession might have been taken for a gigantic picnic party had it not been for the strained, frightened expression on the fugitives' faces.

The national railways were the first to store their impediments on the trains assigned to them. Then came government officials shepherding porters with great stacks of records, and office furniture. In the excitement, the officials had failed to show discrimination, for many of the cargoes consisted of hat racks, cuspidors and even window curtain rods. All this heterogeneous mass was dumped into passenger coaches and gondolas and between pieces of artillery and airplane equipment on flat cars.

While some of the porters complied with their duty, others were to be seen streaking, not toward the Buenavista station, but toward the poorer sections of the city, carrying what evidently will find a ready sale in the capital curio and second-hand shops.

At only one track was there a semblance of order—the siding where the treasure cars had been spotted. Here Luis Cabrera was in command and, after the trains left, not even a copper centavo was found by treasure seekers. There were 300 cars of all classes and

24 locomotives in the station ready to leave by midnight. Estimates as to the soldiers and civilian refugees vary, but the generally accepted figure is placed at about 5000, a village on wheels.

For hours the fugitives waited, but the trains did not start and flying rumors kept the occupants of the cars peering anxiously into the night for the vanguard of the revolutionary forces. Agents of the liberal constitutionalists had tampered with the train crews and it was necessary to send patrols to round them up.

Next morning locomotive bells began to clang, whistles shrieked and a great wave of weeping farewells arose.

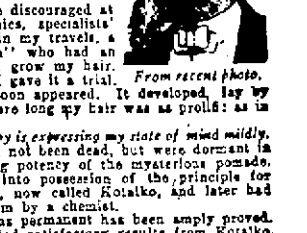

Bursting with soldiers and women came followers, officials and civilians, baggage and munitions, airplanes, artillery, boxes of coin, piles of gold and silver bars, government records, cuspidors and hat racks, the trains moved slowly into the suburbs. The Carranza government had started to move the capital.

Coughs Grow Better PISO'S

HAIR GROWN ON MR. BRITTAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIANS' MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER

My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that as he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth. Yet now, at an age over 60, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair. No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs.

Indians' Secret of Hair Growth

At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, lay by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as profuse as in my youth days.

That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious powder. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalko, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.

That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Kotalko.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

My honest belief is that hair roots rarely die even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fever, excessive dryness or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often when hair falls out the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by hard skin, so that they remain for a time like bulbs or seeds in a bottle which will grow when fertilized. Shampoo (which contains alkali) and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Kotalko contains those elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

PROVE FOR YOURSELF

Get a box of the genuine Kotalko at a reliable druggist's $3.00.00 GUARANTEE with each box. A small testing box of Kotalko (with testimonials, etc.) may be obtained by sending ten cents, silver or stamps, to my address below.

IRISH STOWAWAY TENOR SENT HOME

NEW YORK, June 3.—Francis O'Brien, a young stripling famous on Ellis Island as a stowaway and as a tenor of promise, who is on the high seas today on his return voyage to Ireland, is a living proof that a birth certificate may sometimes prove an essential document in the pursuit of a career as a singer.

Were it not for his lack of such a document as proof of his contention that he was born in Philadelphia and that his parents took him to Ireland when he was four years old, young O'Brien might now be winning the hearts of American music lovers, as did John McCormick, the emulation of whose career led the lad to secrete himself on an American-bound vessel some three weeks ago.

Instead, immigration officials, who have only cold legal instructions to guide them in making decisions, saw fit to place him on an outgoing ship and let him try to establish the essential facts concerning his birth after his return. O'Brien, however, dispirited of being able to prove much about his origin, because his father and mother are both dead and he has no relatives in Ireland.

The young tenor's fame as a singer probably would never have started to spread had it not been for a slight illness contracted on Ellis Island, causing him to be placed in the hospital for treatment. The nurses there became enchanted with his singing, and before he was deported he was giving concerts to the other inmates of the hospital as well as for the inhabitants of the island generally. As a result O'Brien's name today is on the lips of all Ellis Island. The hospital attendants were calling his name with tender eulogy and expressing extreme sorrow that he had to go back.

O'Brien is only one of hundreds of such cases that are sent back to their original place of embarkation every month. There are 50 stowaways on the island now awaiting orders to go back, never having seen more of New York than its enchanting skyline. Every incoming ship from no matter what port, according to immigration officials, brings from two to ten stowaways, and almost all of them have a fruitless voyage to this country.

HUB'S SOURCE OF SUPPLY
Big Liquor Raid at Weymouth—700 Gallons of Whiskey Destroyed

EAST WEYMOUTH, June 10.—One of the largest liquor raids to be effected in this state was executed here yesterday afternoon by Prohibition Enforcement Agent William J. McCarthy and six deputies when they raided a house on Pleasant street near Lowell's Corner, seizing enough apparatus to run a large sized liquor distillery and destroying 700 gallons of moonshine whiskey.

The arrested Jacob Kark of Orange street, Chelsea, whom they found in the house, and he was taken to station 4, Boston.

The house raided was supposed to have been unoccupied and has been under surveillance for some time. The liquor was in barrels, which were taken outside the house and broken by the deputies. Included in the goods seized were 50 gallons of mash in the process of fermentation, two 50-gallon copper stills, a large quantity of coloring substance, 30 pounds of yeast, 21 empty barrels, pipes, tubing and two gas stoves.

It is believed by the federal authorities that much of the moonshine whiskey which has been sold in Boston recently was manufactured here. The parties interested in this illegal venture secured the necessary heat for distillation purposes by surreptitiously tapping the main of the Old Colony Gas company.

Approximately 400 vessels, with a total of 550,000 tonnage, were launched on the Clyde river during the last year, the output almost reaching the record of ship construction on the Clyde.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is a dreadfully dangerous and suffering condition. Other one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please for reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck Magnesia for their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bismarck Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a detergent, but a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This moves the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of peptic pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the Bismarck form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

THE STRAND
Beginning today and continuing the remainder of the week the feature picture offering at The Strand will be William Farnum in "The Adventurer" and Miss Madeline Travers in "The Iron Heart." Besides these there will be a brand new comedy and the latest Weekly. Don't miss this unusually strong bill.

"The Adventurer" presents the star in a typical Farnum role, and one in which the many followers of the star are promised much. Farnum is cast as a romantic lover who is as sure with his sword as with his heart. As the hero of "The Adventurer" he is certain to score for it is the type of role in which he has won his greatest fame as an actor. His ability is as unquestioned as the fact that he has the largest following of any male screen star in the world. In this role he is offered a chance to display those fine histrionic touches which have elevated him to his present position. As usual, a strong supporting cast has been given him in his latest picture effort.

"The Iron Heart" with Madeline Travers starring is an intensely dramatic offering involving the courage of a young woman who undertakes a man's job. It gives the star exceptional opportunity to reflect her dramatic attainments.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Few motion picture directors have tackled intelligently the subject of matrimony made thoroughly entertaining pictures on the theme. The few who have succeeded Cecil B. De Mille stands head and shoulders above the rest. Such pictures as "Don't Change Your Husband," "Oh, What a New," and "For Better or For Worse" are classics in this field. Now comes his latest creation, "Why Change Your Wife?" showing all that makes the Merrimack Square theatre. For an intelligent survey of the matrimonial field, pretty women, pretty clothes and burlesque scenes, nothing tops this production has ever been shown in Lowell. A comedy, the International News and a Burton Holmes travel picture round out the bill.

Care and Responsibility.

THE responsibility attached to the preparing of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared; could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for, the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

GIRLS! BUTTERMILK CREATES BEAUTY OVERNIGHT
The first application of Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty, it makes like magic, but the most wonderful thing about it is the fact that it is the simplest and most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

It is absolutely harmless and will neither produce or stimulate the growth of hair. Within twenty-four hours this wonderful combination called Howard's Buttermilk Cream will work a marvelous transformation. Carter & Sherburne Co., Fred Howard, 127 Central St., can supply you. Manufactured at Buffalo, N. Y., by Howard Bros., Chemical Co.—Adv.

That's because they are playing First National pictures, which is all composed of specials. This week, for instance, Griffith's master picture, "The Idol Dancer," is proving a revelation in story theme, as well as pictorialization. Action, which includes the wonderful dance of White Almond Flower, during which no one is seated the night at the missionary's house, the touches of humor, are all Griffith master touches.

The remainder of the bill changes today and is up to the standard, but the "Idol Dancer" finishes off the week. All next week, "The Courage of Marie O'Donnell," a Villagraph special, is bound to startle the city. It is a James Oliver Curwood story, and is said to be one of the best of the series.

LAKEVIEW PARK
There's always some added attraction at Lakeview park. For example, this week, there's William Milne, a singer of Leo Feist songs, "Peggy Moving Picture Ball," and others. Milne's sure-fire hit and his singing has already caused many favorable comments.

At the same time, the management announces a favor night for tomorrow night, and is ready to sign up for a big fireworks night for a week from tomorrow night.

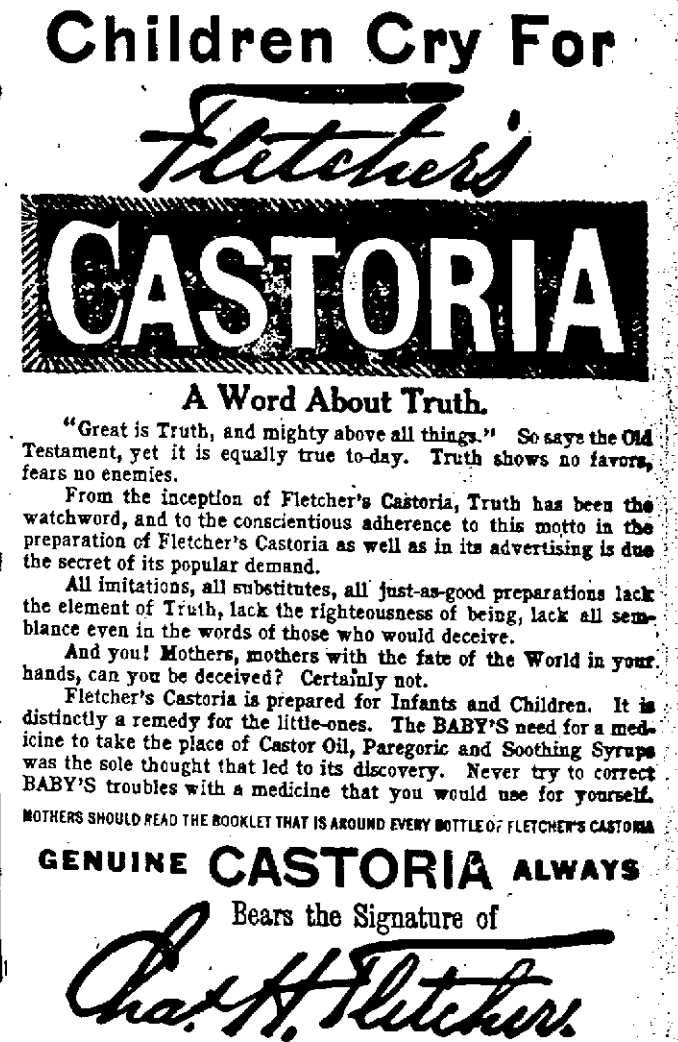

And, whisper it softly, Miner-Doyle's now singing, as well as playing, the best music for dancing. Take it all or oh, you can't beat Lakeview park for entertainment.

COLBY RAPS LODGE'S KEYNOTE ADDRESS
ELMIRA, N. Y., June 10.—Exhibiting a copy of the commencement program at Elmira college in 1914, the year in which his mother was graduated from the institution, Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state, speaking at the 65th annual commencement of the college yesterday, declared that some of the essays given by the members of the graduating class in '14, as noted in the old program, "would make more profitable reading than the remarks of the temporary chairman of the republican national convention" in Chicago.

Secretary Colby expressed regret at the attacks made on President Wilson. Fifty-seven young women were graduated degrees at the exercises.

Mayor Thompson thinks the city will need more money. It's in the same box then as most of its citizens.

With the price of coal in Lowell advanced to $16 per ton the man who was predicting that the price would go to $20 before next winter may yet be hailed as a real prophet.

The curtailment of wooden mill production to three days a week may be necessary, but it is not a measure that is likely to give an impetus to a hoped-for cut in the price of clothing.

A not unremarkable feature of the presidential nomination campaign is that General John J. Pershing has not even had a place on the track among the leading dark horses.

It is announced that the city's playgrounds will be opened on July 5. Why wait until that date? The need for the playgrounds will begin to be felt the day after the schools close.

The state commission on the necessities of life announces that the cost of living in Massachusetts advanced four per cent last month. It would be interesting if the commission would also tell us some of the causes of the increase and whether it is justified.

That former state prison guard who gave as a reason for not shooting at escaping prisoners 150 feet away that he wanted to save his ammunition until he could come to closer quarters with the fleeing men, would seem to be altogether too prudent a man for the job he held.

It is to be hoped that the protest of the board of directors of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce against the continued exportation of coal will bear fruit in time, but meanwhile Europe is gobbling up our fuel supply and New England's industries are facing the prospect of empty coal bins next winter.

Lady Astor says, "I am not quite certain that all of the men quite trust either me or my sex." Goodness, what will multitudes of men who turn their pay envelopes over to the "missus" every Saturday night think of this? Yet surely the men are more trustful of the opposite sex than are the women.

William Jennings Bryan has been at Chicago urging the republicans to put a strong "dry" plank in their platform. Judging by what is commonly believed to be the feeling of most republicans toward Mr. Bryan he might have succeeded better in securing what he was after if he had asked for a "wet" declaration.

A big boom is on in Boston's matrimonial market, and the announcement is made that all previous records have been beaten in the number of marriage licenses issued. Perhaps the census statement showing that the city has not been keeping up with other places in the race for increased population has made an appeal to the municipal pride of the young people.

Although some of the county jails are closed and others are nearly tenantless, the cost of maintaining the institutions is to continue at the rate of nearly $300,000 for the current year. But even with empty jails it does not seem that there will be any corresponding economy for the taxpayers for awhile at least.

From the slight attention that seems to be given to the selection of a vice presidential candidate at Chicago, the delegates would appear to have forgotten that during the years since the Civil war, the White House has been occupied during a considerable part of the time by a man who was elected to fill the office of vice president.

LOWELL GUILD
To raise funds for establishing a baby station on the South common, the first day for the Lowell Guild on Saturday. If the Guild can start such a station, it will be able to render aid to many children suffering from disease or from the lack of suitable food, probably the most prevalent ailment of young children in this and other cities. It is to be hoped the Guild will be enabled thus to extend its usefulness.

BACK TO SHAKESPEARE
It is a pity that the example of the students of the Revere Hall school in presenting Shakespeare's "As You Like It" in the open air on the beautiful lawn adjoining the school, cannot be more generally followed. The benefit to the students in becoming familiar with the wonderfully beautiful diction and the entrancing dialogue of the great dramatist is incalculable, while those who witness such performances are given a rich treat. Shakespeare and the older dramatists seem to have gone almost entirely out of date. Public attention is turned almost wholly in the direction of vaudeville, musical comedies and the movies. These are all of them very well in their respective places, but not any or all of them can fully take the place of the stage with the passions and the weaknesses, the ambitions and the failures of real men and women portrayed in dramatic action.

If it were not for occasional performances such as that at Rogers Hall, we might almost conclude that all taste for the classic and beautiful in dramatic literature had died out. As it is, we can believe that such a taste still exists and will come into a fuller development again at some time in the future.

THAT COUNTY BILL
Somewhat the Boston Herald and other papers got twisted on the bill providing for an appropriation of $600,000 to increase the salaries of certain Middlesex county employees, but not of the commissioners, as alleged by the Herald.

Indeed, as already shown in this paper, the commissioners were strongly opposed to the measure as it embodied an attempt to go over their heads and secure from the legislature, what they had refused or at least what depended upon their discretionary power.

It was on this ground that the governor vetoed the bill, a fact made clear in his veto message, when he said:

Whatever the duly constituted county authorities may ask for in this direction would have my hearty approval.

The expenses of the county, like every other department of government, are running to unprecedented heights and the figures will elicit criticism no doubt; but while the commission may or may not be open to criticism in this direction, any charge that they have been trying to boost their own salaries, is wholly without foundation; yet for some inexplicable reason it has been spread far and wide by the erratic statements of one or two newspapers.

A LAND OF HORROR
Bolshevik Russia today is a "land of horror"—quoting J. Herbert Duckworth, who has just come out of that sovietized country.

"The people are slowly starving to death," he cables from Reval, "and Bolshevism is slowly decaying."

Duckworth was sent into Russia by the Newspaper Enterprise Association, to investigate actual conditions from an unprejudiced viewpoint, with eyes and ears open to both sides, so that he might tell Americans exactly what Russia has done with this latest governmental experiment.

Before he went to Russia, Duckworth was inclined toward liberalism in government, leaning toward radicalism, in fact. By that one may know he was not influenced in his investigations by any preconceived anti-socialist opinions. Down deep in his heart Duckworth probably had hoped to find a successful experiment in government by and for the people, an advanced form of freedom, liberty and happiness. But he found:

"Ninety per cent of the Russian people are sick of the experiment."

Why? He answers:

"There is no liberty, no food, no clothing, no happiness—only misery and starvation."

And, again, why? He explains:

"The Bolsheviks are good destroyers but poor builders."

There you have the secret of the soviet failure. Russia cannot—no country can—have liberty, food, clothing, happiness, through the medium of a government based upon division of what has been accumulated, founded upon the doctrine of destruction of what is, built upon the sands of no-ambition, no individual goal, no private initiative.

Probably, to some, Bolshevism sounded pleasantly enough—as a theory of government. In actual working out, Duckworth proclaims it a "ghastly nightmare."—N. E. A.

BOLSHEVIKI HOLD UP MOVEMENT
LONDON, June 10.—The Bolsheviks have held on the forward movement begun in the winter early this week by the army of General Wrangel, who succeeded to the command of the remnants of the Denikin forces in southern Russia, it is reported in Wednesday's official soviet statement from Moscow today.

SEEN AND HEARD
No, the booze is not all gone. But it will be some day, and then, well—

The profligate's head is thick, but the constant drop of prices wears away the hardest bone.

Even in Mexico prices are outrageous. They are bidding 100,000 pesos for Villa's head.

A lot of the presidential timber is casting furtive eyes in the direction of the tall timber.

Home Made Brew
I am a modern character.
My name is Raisin Black;
And any guy who latches me
Gets put upon his back.

My fragrance lures the innocent.
My kick delights the stout;
And when one gets my stomach punch—
Believe me, he is out.

Open Sesame
"Did you have any trouble in seeing that captain of industry whose time is reputed to be worth almost a million a minute?"

"None at all."

"How did you contrive to get into his private office?"

"I stood just outside the door and engaged his secretary in a loud conversation about golf, in which I displayed a superior knowledge of the game."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

"The Barometer"
There are still a few of the old time "stock" companies touring round the smaller towns. One of these had at least 20 plays on its list. Recently it was giving a show in a village hall. The performance was pretty bad, but the villagers found it quite interesting till, at the great climax in the third act, the hero forgot his part. After an embarrassing silence of about two minutes he hissed audibly, to the prompter.

"What's the line?"

"What's the play?" the prompter hissed back from his little box as he grabbed a pile of two or three dozen books and began to run through them feverishly.

The Final Act
After his daughter came home from the fashionable boarding school she had insisted on attending, the old man, who had made his fortune in ways that were dark, realized that he was in for a bad time. She wished to pass all her culture along to him, and he didn't want it.

"Now, father," she said primly one day, "how often have I told you that it's bad form to drop the final 'g' in 'goins'?"

"And there you've just said 'goins' instead of 'goings'." Really, it's too bad of you!"

The old man thought it was time the form turned. Certainly he felt like a worm.

"Listen to me, m' dear," he said solemnly. "I have a question to ask."

"Yes, father," his daughter replied encouragingly, thinking that the lessons were at last having effect.

"Well, may I drop the final 'g' in 'goins'?"

My Mother
My mother is my heart's ideal
Of all that's dear and good.
Her life is radiant with love
And gracious womanhood.
She's sympathetic, gentle, kind;
She understands a lad;
And oh, she's just the truest friend
A fellow ever had!

My mother never turns me down
Or lets me when in need.
To sacrifice herself and serve
Her loved ones is her creed.
She practices her faith in God
With joy and eagerness;
Her ministry's a miracle
Of sweet unselfishness.

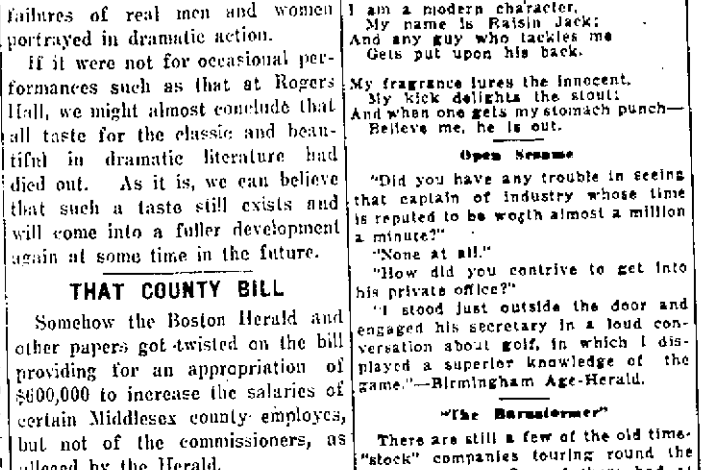

My mother is my pal of pals;
She's all the world to me!
I owe her everything I am
And all I hope to be.
I want to live a life like hers,
And oh, I want to prove
Myself deserving of her faith
And worthy of her love!

—John H. Styles, Jr., in Christian Herald.

MAN ABOUT TOWN
There are few legacies that a father can bequeath a son ambitious to get on in politics that is likely to prove more valuable than a short name. As evidence of the truth of this statement consider the names of the men most prominent in the race for the presidency in both political parties. With the single exception of Coolidge, they all have names of six or seven letters or less. There is a reason for this—or at least there appears to be. A distinguished politician observed some time ago, "Let me write the newspaper headlines and I care not who writes the nation's laws." There is an element of truth behind this observation. The value of advertising to an aspirant for public office is incalculable. The most successful way in which to secure advertising of the highest class and of the widest possible appeal is to get into the headlines of the papers. The headline writers have their troubles. Their work is bounded by iron—or shall we say lead—rules. There is just so much space to be filled and it will take a certain number of letters and no more to fill it. For this reason the headline artists have a strong preference for short words, and when a man with a long name gets into the limelight he may slide in the small type of the news columns but not often in the 30 to 120-point captions on the front page. All of our presidents since modern headline writing became an art have had short names or some short popular designation that served in place thereof. Roosevelt was not lucky in the name that he inherited, but the handicap was overcome by the fact that he was known throughout his public career as "Teddy" and T.R. Cleveland, from the time that he became governor of New York, was known countrywide as "Grover."

I note that the spring issue of the telephone directory has across the top of its outside cover page the caption: "Please destroy the old directory." As far as I remember the company has never given so prominent a place to this exhortation in previous numbers, although there has always been some mention of the necessity of doing away with the old directories so that subscribers would use only the latest information available when calling persons in this city and the surrounding towns. It has been the custom of the company, I understand, to collect the old books as the new ones were distributed, but in many instances the old directories are not available when the

WALLY WOODCHUCK DISAPPEARS
Tingaling started to go to Wally Woodchuck's kitchen to hunt for him, because Wally hadn't come back with the sassafras for tea, which Mrs. Woodchuck was making for Nancy and Nick and the fairy landlord.

"AHA! NOW I UNDERSTAND," SAID TINGALING. "THE FAT OLD WALLY WAS DIGGING ANOTHER HALLWAY SO HE COULD ESCAPE."

the sassafras roots dangling from the ceiling hadn't been touched! "Aha?" said he softly. "I understand now what all that pounding was that we heard a minute ago. Mr. Wally wasn't tending the sassafras any more than I'm digging diamonds. The old fat rascal was digging another hallway out of his home so that he could escape. Yes, sir, there it is. Wait until I catch him, though. I'll tie six bells on to him instead of one; I'll tie one on each leg, one on his neck and a big loud one onto his tail, the sly old scamp!"

My, but Tingaling was mad! It was bad enough to have the woodchuck put all his children out of house and home, company's representative calls, hence, the request in large letters on the present issue that the old directory be destroyed.

John P. Sanborn, Treasurer of N. E. O. of P. Said to Have Speculated in Stocks

BOSTON, June 10.—The discovery of a shortage of $109,000 in the accounts of John P. Sanborn of Newport, R. I., as supreme treasurer of the New England Order of Protection was announced by Judge H. William Scott, of Essex, Vt., supreme warden of the order, today. Mr. Sanborn, in a state of collapse, according to Judge Scott, has resigned his office, and George W. Howe of Quincy, supreme vice warden, has been appointed to succeed him.

Judge Scott said that the shortage as uncovered to date, extended back 12 years. Treasurer Sanborn, who is 72 years of age, has held the office 23 years. Further audit of the accounts is being made. As now disclosed, according to the supreme warden, $109,000 in bonds and $38,000 in cash is missing.

Much of the losses, it was said, was traced to speculation in stocks. All of the bonds, and some of the cash, were located in brokers' offices. Efforts will be made to recover these funds, but no immediate action, criminal or civil, against Sanborn has been decided upon, because of the former treasurer's condition. It is said.

The stability of the order, which is a fraternal insurance organization with approximately 25,000 members in New England, is not affected, it is claimed. Losses are expected to be covered by a bond of $100,000, and Judge Scott said the order had over $300,000 of additional funds free and clear.

The shortages, he said, were all found in the accounts which the treasurer kept at his home or with local banks at Newport, accounts in this city being intact. It was an objection by Mr. Sanborn to a decision by a com-

Decision on Section of Lever Law, Commonly Known as Food Control Bill
PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—That section of the Lever law, commonly known as the food control bill, which makes it an offense for a merchant to charge "unjust or unreasonable prices," was yesterday held to be unconstitutional by United States District Judge Thompson.

The ground for invalidating section 4 of the act, Judge Thompson holds, is because its description of "unjust and unreasonable prices" is vague, indefinite and uncertain and in violation of the sixth amendment to the constitution guaranteeing any defendant the right to full information of the nature of the charge against him.

The section of the Lever act relating to prices must fall, Judge Thompson decides, because it does not set up a standard upon which a jury can determine, while trying a defendant accused of profiteering, whether he has made an unjust and unreasonable charge for necessities.

In declaring the section unconstitutional the court granted an injunction to Lambert & Co., sugar brokers of New York, restraining United States Dist. Atty. McAvoy and other federal officials from issuing warrants for the arrest of 11 members of the firm on charges of profiteering.

POLAND TO SEND PEACE NOTE TO RUSSIA

WARSAW, June 9.—(By Associated Press)—Poland will send a peace note to the Russian soviet government within a few days, according to newspapers here.

Pess Whitaker, jailer of Letcher County, Ind., got into a fight and was sent by County Judge Collins to his own jail. Having a key to the jail, he let himself out, and later was indicted on a charge of breaking jail, and was sentenced to serve six months. Gov. Morrow has refused to remit the sentence.

TWO GIRLS PERISHED

Mother and Little Brother

Injured—100 Escape From Tenement House Fire

NEW YORK, June 10.—Two little girls were burned to death and their mother and little brother were seriously injured early today in a fire starting in a garbage can standing in the lower hallway of an apartment house.

The dead are Catherine and Mary Beach, 11 and 7 years old, respectively. Mrs. Julia Beach and George Beach, 10, were taken to a hospital.

More than 100 persons escaped down fire escapes and over adjoining roofs or were rescued by firemen.

REMOVE BODIES OF BLAINE TO AUGUSTA

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The bodies of James G. Blaine, republican nominee for the presidency in 1881 and twice secretary of state and of his wife, Harriet S. Blaine, are to find a permanent resting place in a memorial park near the state house at Augusta, Me., where Mr. Blaine was born and where Mr. Blaine moved from Pennsylvania when a young man.

The bodies were disinterred today from the family plot in Rock Creek cemetery here and will be sent tomorrow to Augusta, where they will be buried Sunday.

Mr. Blaine died in Washington, on January 27, 1903, soon after retiring from his second term as secretary of state and Mrs. Blaine died 10 years later.

MAGEE LOSES SUIT AGAINST CHICAGO CUBS

CINCINNATI, June 10.—A verdict for the defendant was rendered by the jury in the suit of Lee Magee, Cincinnati baseball player, against the Chicago National League club for $5000, which he claimed was due him for salary and possible bonuses on a contract for the playing season of 1920.

The jury deliberated about an hour before it reached a decision. Robert A. Horn, attorney for Magee, announced after the verdict had been rendered that the case would be appealed.

Judge Peck is his appeal to the jury said. The jury must bear in mind the necessity of keeping baseball free from trickery and fraud and also the necessity of upholding the public confidence in baseball contests.

The name of Hal Chase, former first baseman of the Cincinnati Nationals, dominated the cross-examination of Lee Magee yesterday during the closing hours of the trial in the United States district court of Magee's suit for $5000 against the Chicago National League club.

The attorney for the defendant questioned Magee minutely regarding his relations with Chase during the time that they played together on the Cincinnati team in 1918.

The witness denied that he had told President William Veeck of the Chicago Nationals and President John Heydler of the National League, that he had committed a crime against baseball, and repudiated the "midnight confession" mentioned in the testimony of Veeck and Heydler.

SPORT

On last Thursday evening a very agreeable surprise, in the form of a miscellaneous shower, was tendered Miss Mary Rose Curry of 177 Shelden street, in honor of her approaching marriage to Mr. M. Henry Rolan. The shower proved a genuine surprise to Miss Curry, who on entering the home of Miss Rita Bourke, for an informal visit, found gathered there all the members and friends of the Merry-makers, of which popular girls' club she is a member.

Miss Curry thanked everyone by the occasion, recovered quickly and gracefully expressed her appreciation for the many beautiful gifts presented her. An entertainment, in the form of musical and vocal selections by the Misses Susan Curry, Madeline K. Mayo, Anna Place and the bride-to-be, added to the further enjoyment of the party, this being followed by a delightful buffet lunch, served by Mrs. Frank Bourke. Those responsible for the success of the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bourke, Rita Bourke and all the members of the Merry-makers.

More than 2000 persons have returned to the ruins of Rheims, where they are mostly living in the ruins of wine cellars.

GREAT INTEREST IN THE BOYLE-DOWNES BOUT

Interest in the big lightweight contest between Danny Boyle of Lowell and Johnny Downes of South Boston to be staged at Spaulding park on Saturday afternoon indicates that a record crowd will turn out to formally welcome the advent of outdoor boxing here this season.

Not only are Lowell fans enthusiastic over the impending fight, but word from other cities indicates that the many out-of-town members will be on hand when the two fighters meet in the ring at 11 o'clock Saturday morning at Spaulding park.

Boyle is taking every day and said yesterday that he felt confident of being at the stipulated weight, 125 pounds, when called upon to weigh in at the M.C.C. ring on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Downes is working out at Diamond Hill, R. I., and reports from there that he is in fine fettle and will be down to weight. Boyle's remarkable "comeback" in which he boxed Britt, Simler, Duffy, De Foe and Parker, without having a real verse scored against him, has placed him among the top-notchers of his class, while Downes' work against Frankie Brown, Michael, Rector, De Foe and others, has given him a great boost. In Syracuse, N. Y., Downes made such an impression that the sporting writers termed him the coming champion of the lightweight division.

There will be a six with the first bout going on at 2:30 o'clock.

"ASSOCIATE" SKIPPER OF SHAMROCK IV. TALKS

NEW YORK, June 10.—One of the mitigating circumstances in the life of a yacht racer and a particularly successful trophy hunter is the fact that not every cup is a cup.

At least that is the opinion of Mrs. Burton, "associate" skipper of the Shamrock IV, who is here to help her husband, Captain W. M. Burton, try for the trophy which has been west of the Atlantic since 1855. Her paradoxical sounding opinion was uttered very seriously.

"Happily some of them are salvers, tea services, and what not," she said. "Imagine the housewife's task of polishing something like a thousand cups of embossed silver."

Having the cups is very nice, Mrs. Burton says, but the real joy of the thing is the race. Since her marriage, Mrs. Burton has not missed a race with her husband, who declares he has sailed a race without his towel as leave his wife behind.

Mrs. Burton was reticent as to the precise sea duties of an associate skipper. She stood in the companionway just beyond the wheel and I never knew that everything is coming out right and that we are going to win," she finally explained.

She said she never suffered from nervousness and never dreamed of making suggestions to her husband or in any way distracting his attention from the minutiae of his duties as helmsman.

"There could be nothing more out of place on a racing yacht than an excitable, bustling woman. I am a calm, unstrung woman. I am a joy to thoroughly."

"During my first experiences in yacht sailing, I used to get a bit perturbed and worried up and I suppose there will never again be anything so thrilling as the first one of all, when a sail—just that was long ago."

Mrs. Burton has full confidence in the speed of the latest Shamrock which is unlike any yacht that has ever sailed for the America's Cup.

"It is not in the least like any other yacht that was ever made," she admitted, "but my husband and I believe it is invincible and I am winning that coveted cup this time."

GREATEST HORSE OF ALL TIMES

Man-o-War Holds Same Place on Tracks That Babe Ruth Now Occupies in Baseball

BY LORRY A. JACOBS
N.Y.A. Staff Special

NEW YORK, June 2.—The greatest horse of history and the Babe Ruth of the race track is Man-o-War, the Fair Play-Mahubah colt.

No thoroughbred has ever won 1500 stakes and purses in the history of the race track but it appears to be certain that the great hearted colt had broken the record for the mile a few days ago when he won the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness Stakes at the beginning of the season, and brought his total up to about $125,000 when he collapsed his record made in the Withers Stakes at Belmont a few days ago.

He is scheduled for the Belmont Stakes.

Man-o-War's head

But he will have his best chance to show his magnificent past the 150,000 mark when he enters the Latonia

Championship Stakes next fall, commencing for 1921.

Man-o-War's performance in the Withers Stakes was by far one of the best in practically the entire history of the race track, and he stamped over the line with his head bowed low, so strongly that he could give him his head but for the strength of the neck and knees.

"I knew he was breaking a record, but I knew it was best not to let him out of the mud," said the jockey, and he could have done the mile in 1:50.15. This stood until Roamer had been held in.

Only Two Pastors

But two horses have done faster miles than Man-o-War, and their races were run against time. Salvador, running against time, clocked off a mile in 1:49.15. This stood until Roamer had been held in.

Man-o-War's head

LABOR BLAMED FOR HIGH BUILDING COST

CINCINNATI, O., June 10.—Child blame for tremendous increases in building costs is placed on labor's refusal to do "a day's work for a day's pay" in the report of the county grand jury on its investigation of the housing situation delivered yesterday by Judge Kennedy in criminal court.

The report followed a three months investigation in which members of the jury heard testimony of more than 100 witnesses, including builders, dealers in materials, and suppliers, and representatives of labor organizations.

The report declares that no evidence to indicate the existence of a combination or trust to keep up building prices had been found.

Workmen employed in building operations are doing less than one-half the work they did in pre-war times, the jury charged, and are receiving twice the wage.

CARD. GIBBONS' PRAYER AT G. O. P. CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 10.—Cardinal Gibbons' prayer at the opening of the republican national convention today follows:

"We pray, Thee, O God of might, wisdom, and justice, through whom authority is rightly administered, laws are enacted and judgment decreed, vouchsafe to inspire Thy servants, the citizens of America, to elect a chief magistrate, whose administration may be conducted in righteousness and eminently useful to Thy people, even whom he shall preside, by encouraging due respect for virtue and religion, by a faithful execution of the laws of justice and mercy, and by restraining vice and immorality.

"May Thy people always realize the blessed truth, that righteousness exalteth a nation, but that sin maketh a people miserable. May they be laboriously persuaded, that if our nation is to be perpetuated, our government must rest, not on formidable standpoints, not on dreadnoughts, for violence is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong." May they be persuaded, that our government must rest upon the eternal principles of truth, justice and righteousness; on doing right honestly in our dealings with foreign nations and on the development of an overruling Providence, who has created all things by His power, governs all things by His wisdom, and whose eternal vigilance watches over the affairs of nations of men, and without whom not a bird can fall to the ground. May the Lord smite the wicked, they be vain that shall say: Unless the Lord be with us, we shall perish."
